

Mexican Relations Believed Close To Breaking Point

Washington, June 24.—Relations between the United States and the defacto government of Mexico are close to the breaking point today as a result of the apparently well founded belief that American cavalrymen were deliberately massacred Wednesday at Carrizal by Carranza soldiers. Secretaries Lansing and Baker were early callers at the White House today conferring with President Wilson. It is known that the possibility of drastic retaliatory action against the Mexican forces in Chihuahua was given grave consideration. If the Carranza government accepts responsibility for the attack at Carrizal it is considered virtually certain by officials that occupation of most of northern Mexico will be ordered by President Wilson to take place as rapidly as the necessary military forces can be placed at the disposal of General Funston. An official dispatch from Mexico City today said it was reported there General Carranza was preparing a reply to the last American note and that it would be published in Mexico City probably tomorrow without waiting for its delivery to the United States.

AMERICAN COMMAND ALMOST ANNIHILATED IN MEXICO

PERSHING SENDS A SERIOUS REPORT

(Bulletin)

Washington, D. C., June 24.—General Funston reported to the war department late today that eleven survivors of the Carrizal fight had returned to General Pershing's line, sixteen were reported to have been picked up by the cavalry relief column and 17 to have been captured by the Mexicans, leaving unaccounted for forty of the 84 officers and men who were under Captain Boyd.

San Antonio, Texas, June 24.—Complete disorganization of the two troops that were engaged in disastrous combat Wednesday morning at Carrizal with Carranza's troops, and the practical annihilation of those actually in the fight was indicated in a report from General Pershing to General Funston today. One officer and eight enlisted men of C Troop and seven men of K. troop were picked up yesterday morning by Lieutenant Mayer near Santa Marie. All were horse holders. The stories of these men told were almost identical to those told by the other stragglers that reached the transmission lines yesterday.

General Pershing in his report today, referred to the number of those who previously had returned to the American lines as

U. S. Troops Advancing Despite The Warning

Chihuahua City, Mexico, June 24.—American columns have been seen advancing from the American field base in the direction of San Antonio and Oj Caliente, and General Jacinto Trevino has issued orders to attack them if they do not immediately retreat. General Trevino said the Americans would get the same treatment that they received at Carrizal, as he is determined to carry out his orders to the letter.

In this, he said, he had all his subordinates with him and they will remain with him in case of a rupture.

The Mexican commander said that it seemed probable, inasmuch as General Pershing seemed ignorant of the facts of the Carrizal column, that outside of five additional prisoners now being brought here the Americans were annihilated, although it was possible more had escaped. General Pershing has wired here for the names of the dead and the prisoners.

It was officially announced that none of the prisoners brought here will be hanged, that not being the custom of a civilized country.

El Paso, Texas, June 24.—Army officers here believe that the column bound for Ojo Caliente, which General Trevino has threatened to attack, probably is composed of the troops surviving the Carrizal battle. Ojo Caliente is about forty miles southwest of Villa Ahumada.

San Antonio is fifty miles southeast of Naniquipa, and the mission of the column proceeding in that direction is not known here unless it be to search for bandits.

Refuse To Take Orpet Case From The Jury

Waukegan, Ill., June 24.—The defense in the case of Will H. Orpet, charged with the murder of Marion Lambert, was overruled by Judge Donnelly today when it asked that the case be taken from the jury and the defendant discharged.

Columbus, N. M., June 24.—Investigation of reports that a number of Mexican spies have been in the expeditionary base camp here recently resulted today in the discharge of several Mexican employees of the army quartermaster's department. The men were ordered by Captain Louis J. Van Schaick, chief of the Intelligence Department, to leave Columbus immediately.

A motor truck train a mile long, carrying thirty thousand pounds of military supplies left here today for General Pershing's base. The train was escorted by two troops of cavalry and a battery of machine guns mounted on motor cycles.

CAPTIVE TROOPERS IN THE PEN

Chihuahua City, Mexico, June 24.—The seventeen American negroes captured in the Carrizal battle have been placed in the penitentiary here. There have been no arrangements made for removing them to Juarez to be surrendered to the American authorities.

Leon Spillsbury, the Mormon scout captured at Carrizal, also is in prison. The prisoners were assaulted by Mexican civilians as they were being transferred from the train to the penitentiary. According to the authorities they are being well treated.

According to a statement said to have been signed by Spillsbury, made public today by General Trevino, neither he nor the negroes knew which side began the firing. Spillsbury's statement says that practically all the Americans who lost their lives were killed when they advanced to a deep ditch in which Mexicans were stationed, and when other Mexicans, getting around to a deep ditch in their rear, attacked them from the flank.

Captives Natives From This Section

Washington, D. C., June 24.—War department officials were unable to identify all the names given in the list of American prisoners captured by the Mexicans at Carrizal contained in press dispatches from Chihuahua City. The incomplete list of the men and their home address as given out, contained the following:

Troop K, Tenth Cavalry—Ernest Lee, private, Huntington, W. Va., or Harvey M. Lee, private, Gallipolis. (The list gives only the name Lee).

E. Graham, private, Smith Grove, Ky.

TO CARRY OUT ALLIES DEMANDS

Paris, June 24.—A Havas despatch from Athens says that Premier Zaimis announced the new cabinet was unable to appear before the chamber of deputies and would confine itself to execution of the demands presented by the entente powers. These demands will be carried out to the letter. The decree dissolving parliament preliminary to the general elections to be held on August 7, is expected next week.

MUST HOLD UP FREIGHT SHIPMENTS

Washington, D. C., June 24.—Customs officials along the Mexican border have been ordered to hold up freight shipments into Mexico and to advise the railroads to keep their rolling stock on the American side of the line.

Another Alamo May Have Been Fought

San Antonio, Texas, June 24.—In the shadow of the Alamo, where the deaths of Davy Crockett, James Bowie, Colonel Travis and Colonel Bonham made history seventy years ago, citizens of San Antonio today were convinced that another Alamo had been fought last Wednesday at Carrizal by Captains Charles R. Boyd's troopers of the Tenth Cavalry and that the names of Captains Boyd and Morey and Lieutenant Adair would go down into history alongside those of their illustrious predecessors. Officers at Southern Division headquarters, still hoped that a complete and official report from General Pershing would show that more than seven men, who have reached the main column, have escaped death, wounds or capture.

Unless Captain Boyd succeeded in checking the Mexican charge and withdrawing his men to a more advantageous position, the stories on which General Pershing's reports have been based, would seem to indicate to military men here that the American troopers were forced to take what shelter they could from the Cacti and Sandunes of an open plain and fight it out as did Custer's men at the battle of the Little Big Horn.

Teutons Claim Big Gain Near Verdun

Berlin, June 24.—(by wireless to Sayville)—Capture of the armored fortress of Thiaumont north of Verdun, and the larger part of the village of Fleury farther south, was announced today by the war office. Ground also was gained south of Vaux. The Germans took 2,600 prisoners.

Paris, June 24.—Late details show that yesterday's fighting near Verdun equalled in fury anything yet experienced. The total German forces engaged on a two mile front are estimated at between four and five divisions. It was only by the last overwhelming rush when the defenders worn out and thinned by many hours of bombardment, that the enemy succeeded in rushing the Thiaumont works and the adjacent trenches. The Thiaumont fortification covers the approaches to Fleury and the enemy hoped to continue the charge and sweep away the defenders of the latter place; but the French counter attacked with such vigor that it was able only to cling to the first positions first gained.

The Germans have captured the Thiaumont work after three weeks of effort but the French advanced lines still holds good, possessing the greater part of Hills 320 and 321.

AMERICAN AVIATOR KILLED AT VERDUN

400 PERISH WHEN SHIP HITS MINE

Petrograd, June 24.—(Via London)—Four hundred persons lost their lives, according to latest reports, when the Russian passenger steamer Mercury was sunk in the Black Sea by a mine. The total number of persons aboard the ship was approximately 550.

The disaster occurred about ten o'clock in the morning off the village of Grigorievka. The passengers felt a tremendous shock in the forward part of the vessel, which staggered ahead for ship's length and then went down bow foremost in five minutes. Survivors tell harrowing stories of the scenes that ensued. All available steamers

Gust Belmont's three-year-old filly, winner of this year's suburban and Belmont stakes, is next in demand with the Whitney entry, Borrow and Penant, and Emil Herz's imported horse Short Grass, favored in the order named.

London, June 24.—A wireless despatch from Rome says that Pope Benedict has appealed to President Wilson and General Carranza to use their earnest endeavors to avert war.

NOTHING TO MEDIATE THINK THE OFFICIALS

Washington, D. C., June 24.—News that some of the South and Central American Republics were preparing to initiate offers of mediation in the crisis between the United States and Mexico drew from high officials here today a strong intimation that the United States engaged only in protecting its people and territory, considered there was nothing to mediate so, far as the policy of this government was concerned.

Although Ecuador and Salvador have authorized their ministers to confer with their colleagues on the subject, the state department does not expect any immediate overtures from the body of Latin-American diplomats. It is understood that Ambassador Nani of Argentine, who came here from New York yesterday seeking information, telegraphed his government that nothing could be done at this time toward initiating mediation.

WANT TO AVERT WAR

San Salvador, Republic of Salvador, June 24.—The foreign office received today a cablegram from the government of Ecuador, urging all Latin-American governments to take common action to avert war between the United States and Mexico. The government replied immediately approving the proposal.

TENDER GOOD OFFICES

Washington, D. C., June 24.—Eusebio Arredondo, the Mexican Ambassador designate here was notified today that the governments of Ecuador and Salvador had tendered their good offices to General Carranza to aid in averting war between the United States and Mexico. It is understood the despatch did not comment on what Carranza's attitude would be.

SUB REPORT OPPOSES PENSION

Washington, June 24.—Stripped of its $1,000,000 relief provision for families of militiamen, the senate military committee today ordered favorably reported, the Hay resolution adopted by the house yesterday to authorize drafting the national guard into the service of the United States. A substitute for the relief provision directs that militiamen having dependent families should be discharged at once.

The senate committee also eliminated the provision that the militiamen to be drafted into the regular service should serve "not exceeding three years", thus providing that they shall remain in service "for the period of the emergency" as passed the measure stands virtually as it first was introduced in the house. Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the committee, announced that he would report the amended resolution Monday and would ask unanimous consent for its immediate consideration and adoption.

The committee was practically unanimous in voting to eliminate the $1,000,000 relief section. Senator Martin introduced a resolution for the government to pay the full salaries of clerks or other officers' employees while serving with the guard in addition to their pay in the militia. It was not acted on.

Hope For Huntington To Portsmouth Line Revived

There is a possibility of a traction line between Portsmouth and Huntington, W. Va., according to a story carried in the Ironton News, Friday morning. The dispatch says:

"A party of officials of the American Railway company, of Philadelphia, arrived in this city this morning in their private car on the C. & O. They were met here by Manager Thuma, of the Ironton branch of the Ohio Valley Electric company, and Manager Thompson of the Ashland and Huntington division, with automobiles and shown over the property of the company in Ironton, Coal Grove and Hanging Rock.

"Mr. Levi D. York, owner of the Portsmouth Electric company, met the officials shortly after their arrival in this city and spent the morning with them. At noon the party drove to Ashland and from there to Huntington, where they will board their special car enroute East. In the party were the following gentlemen: Mr. Henry Almstedt, Louisville, Ky., Messrs. V. H. Ely, John C. Miller, H. J.

Crowley, John Gribbel, Walter W. Perkins, of Philadelphia, Pa., Mr. Alfred Newburger, of New York, Mr. Alexander Robinson, of Pittsburgh, Pa., Agnew Hise, Esq., of Beaver, Pa., Messrs. Henry P. Scott, Thomas W. Wilson, and Hon. Charles B. Miller, of Wilmington, Del., and Mr. J. J. Henderson, of Philadelphia, Pa.

"Although the party said they were only on a general inspection tour, it is probable that their visit here is relative to either the purchase of the Portsmouth-Ironton traction line, or the sale of the Ironton line to Mr. York. The fact that the Portsmouth company have never asked for a franchise in this city indicates that a combination of some kind is expected between the two companies.

"It is also rumored that the officials were inquiring into the bridge matter, expecting some time to have a complete traction between Huntington and Portsmouth or even further.

"The matter of a street car line to Russell from Ashland may have had something to do with their visit in Ashland, it is thought."

Christian Endeavor Meeting Closes; Rev. John W. Day Made Splendid Talk

The first annual convention of the Scioto County Christian Endeavor Society held in the auditorium of the Second Presbyterian church adjourned last evening after an enjoyable and helpful service.

Last evening's devotional service was led by Rev. Geo. P. Horst. After the devotional service the Lorenz quartette composed of Melzar Chick, Richard Prince, Herbert Fry and Carl Blankmeyer rendered a selection.

The speaker of the evening was Rev. John W. Day, president of the Ohio C. E. Union, who was introduced by Harry Smith, county president.

Rev. Day spoke for a short time on the importance of all Endeavorers attending the state convention which convenes at Springfield next week.

His address "Big Business" was one of the most helpful and forceful talks ever delivered to the societies of this county.

Rev. Day began his address by taking up the boyhood of Jesus, telling of the things which he did in preparing himself for his "Father's" business. This he rightly called "Big Business."

Bigness, according to Dr. Day is only comparative. "A standard of work," he said, "is essential, and we must strive to discover what our standard of bigness and littleness is."

In forcing his argument he referred to Julia Ward Howe, who at one time wrote to her senator asking for help in the settlement work she was carrying on in her city. His reply was that he was too busy with the muskets, too busy making law and had no time for the individual. To which Miss Howe replied: "It is strange that Jesus never got beyond the individuals in need of help."

According to Dr. Day, the two questions which are asked by our school and college graduates as they start out on life's journey are:

"What am I going to get out of the world? What shall I receive in return for my service?"

"What can I give of my life and intellectual endowment? How can I be of service to my fellow-men?"

The last he rightly calls "Big Business." His closing remarks were a call to the Endeavorers for service.

After the address the delegates voted that the committee on resolutions refer their report to the executive board for approval. The simultaneous conferences which were to have been a part of last evening's session were postponed until the next mass meeting.

A large delegation from Buena Vista was present and were warmly greeted by all.

Mother Accuses Daughter In Neighborhood Rumpus

Other arrayed against next neighbors who in the absence of hand information defend the name and character of her child, while she herself decried them for it was the unspectacular afforded in the court Saturday during hearing of Gilmore v. Sullivan. Mrs. Julia Moore, of Camp Avenue, charged with disorderly conduct.

Mrs. Moore charged that Sullivan had come to her door, cursed and threatened to hit her. Gilmore admitted to her home to ask her if she had a remark reflecting on his wife, but said she slammed the door in his face and that he promptly returned to his own home.

The two families live on Camp Avenue. Mrs. Moore had been telling another neighbor, Jesse Osborn that it was not he who had caused police to visit Osborn home last Wednesday night, and during the course of conversation, she brought the subject of her daughter by her marriage, Ruth Allen, under an order from the juvenile court, is now living with a mother, her stepfather, Osborn, having closed his own eyes against her, Mrs. Moore, because she still persisted in wayward course. She said person who upheld the girl the same as she was, and Mrs. Sullivan. Mrs. Sullivan, who had been in the Osborn home overheard the remarks. She later husband and Sullivan applied repaired to the Moore to get Mrs. Moore's statement. She denied making the remarks.

Mrs. Sullivan admitted that Allen came to her home that she occasionally took the child to church and Sunday school, so far as she knew the girl, was deporting herself properly, and she had never heard one else but the mother decried her. There has been feeling between Mrs. Moore and the Evans for a year. Mayor Kaps testified Sullivan for lack of sufficient evidence and the court fell upon Mrs. Moore, who represented by Attorney A. K. Funk, Attorney Nate Gilliland defended Sullivan.

At Dresden the three days celebrated with a feast called "I dolla merla," or "the feast of the blackbird of the bird."

Solicitor McCall was ordered to draft an ordinance repealing the ordinance passed vacating Ohio Avenue.

The solicitor reported that Jas. Brennan was anxious to start his ferry and that some kind of a grade would have to be built soon. The ferry landing will be built at the foot of Ohio Avenue. The street committee and engineer will look after the building of a temporary road to the river. W. T. Harr, of the street committee, reported the sanitary sewer on Grace street practically completed. He also reported the need of tile for different short storm and sanitary sewers. The matter was left in the hands of the street committee and engineer. Several of the members are still in favor of building an underground crossing from Grace street to the river on Ohio Avenue. Engineer Kinley was ordered to bring in an estimate on an underground crossing with a 24 foot base.

Solicitor McCall reported that no decision had been reached in the matter of cutting and paving Gallia pike through Peaches addition. After a lengthy discussion on the matter Mr. Coburn made a motion to have Engineer Kinley bring in an estimate for cutting the pike to a grade of 2 percent at this end, four-tenths of one percent in the middle and eight-tenths of one percent at the west end. The 12 foot walk on the north side will also be eliminated.

An ordinance was passed making it necessary for all property owners to take out a permit before tapping a storm or sanitary sewer. The charge will be $5 per tap. The money will go into the sewer fund. A licensed plumber will have to do the work which will be inspected by the village engineer. The mayor will issue the permits.

No two persons will be allowed to tap on one permit. The plumber will be held responsible for any damage to public work.

An ordinance was passed calling for the issuance of $4000 bonds for the improvement of Maple street. This means the building of a road from Harrisonville Avenue to School Land Hollow, which land is being greatly improved with the building of about four miles of roads. The tract will be laid off in small farm lots. L. C. Turley was present and said work would be started on the building of roads by Isaac Ruby ten days after the village begins work of building the road.

Members Coburn and Emmert voted against the ordinance, read for the third time.

Girl Thief Arrested, Confesses to Judge

Little Wilma Dare was arrested and taken before Judge Thomas C. Beatty, juvenile court Saturday morning on a charge of committing a series of petty thefts. She was arrested by the police Saturday on a charge of stealing a pocketbook from the home of Mrs. Davis, 1513 Ninth street. The purse contained seven cents. The little girl readily confessed to Judge Beatty and said that she was compelled to enter the homes of strangers and steal to buy food and medicine for her sick mother. Her story is doubted by the judge as he is fairly well acquainted with the family.

She was arrested only a few weeks ago on a charge of breaking into the Dr. L. D. Allard home and ransacking the house. Judge Beatty says that the habit of entering homes and stealing small articles seems to be a habit. The girl will be placed either in a county institution or sent to the Delaware School for Girls.

It was the new supreme judge's first visit to Portsmouth. He was accompanied by Mrs. Butters. The supreme official delivered a very interesting and pleasing address to represent the Whitaker-Glessner company. He read a petition asking for the vacation of Grace street east of Vine street to the lake, vacation of Vine street south of Grace street, vacation of New Center street from the south line of alley north of Grace street and alley running north and south from south line of alley north of Grace street. A plat of the land wanted vacated was presented. The vacation of Grace street east of Vine street will eliminate the paving of the part of the street. The matter was referred to the street committee for investigation.

"Yaller" Is Pitched Out By Son, Then Police Got Him

Hiram DeLottell made short work of his father, Van, better known as "Yaller" Lotell, when he found the latter "tearing up the patch" at the family home, corner Mill and Gay streets, Friday night.

When the young man reached home, according to his own story in police court Saturday, he found the neighborhood in an uproar. Neighbors told him that his father had driven his mother from the house.

Stepping inside he found his father sitting beside a bucket of beer. Seizing the bucket, he dumped its contents out of the door and followed it up by pitching his father bodily into the yard and giving him a couple of kicks for "good measure." Neighbors meanwhile had called the police and arrested the father, while the son was ordered to report in court.

"Yaller" pleaded guilty to drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He was reminded that he had recently been warned to stay away from the home, to which he replied that he and wife got along all right so long as he remained sober. The mayor ordered that he be kept locked up for a week and not be given the freedom of the prison premises. The boy was dismissed with the advice to let the police do the fighting in the future and not take the law into his own hands.

Columbus, O., June 24.—Ohio's National Guardsmen were ready today for mobilization and also ready to be mustered into the federal service. All organizations in every branch of the service, have reached the minimum peace strength required by the government and a few are at maximum war strength.

Adjutant General Benson W. Hough telegraphed the central department of the United States army at Chicago last night informing the officers that the Ohio guard is ready to be received into the federal service.

Complete arrangements for the mobilization camp here were discussed today by state officials and Brigadier General William V. McLaken, of Toledo, who will be in command at the camp.

The first state troops will probably be ordered to the camp Monday, General Hough said today. Since President Wilson's call for the troops last Monday night all have been held in their armories awaiting orders to train.

The telegram sent by General Hough was addressed to Colonel H. O. S. Holston at Chicago, and read as follows:

"Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Eighth Regiments of Infantry recruited above minimum required. Squadron cavalry, battalion field artillery, battalion of engineers, battalion signal corps, three field hospital companies and two ambulance companies recruited nearly war strength. Work at Columbus camp site progressing. Ready for reception of troops Tuesday, June 27, if per cent progress is uninterrupted. Planned to begin mobilization on that date."

The Milky Way.
The Milky way is an irregular luminous belt that encircles the celestial sphere and has the general shape of a great circle, inclined at an angle of 63 degrees to the equinoctial. Its luminosity is due to the myriads of stars or suns composing it, many of which have been revealed to us by means of the telescope. It varies in width from 4 to 20 degrees and at one point of its course splits up into two nearly parallel branches of unequal brightness, which do not recombine for a distance of 150 degrees.

TRADE REVIEW

IN LOCAL FIELDS

Cincinnati, June 24.—Trade conditions as found in the Cincinnati fields and vicinity by the reporters under the direction of Bradstreet are contained in the following review issued by Bradstreet:

Cincinnati, Ohio.

Jobs in dry goods, notions and gents' furnishings reports business normal with collections fair. Groceries, produce and kindred lines say they are busy; collections fair. Wholesale paper, jewelry and jewelry supplies report volume of business increasing with some improvement in collections. Lumber demand light market overstocked and prices being cut. Whiskey and Spirits Whiskey offerings are heavy but sales are only made on a cut price and but a few barrels changing owners. Spirits are in fair demand and prices are maintained. Coal: The labor troubles in the Pittsburgh field is having the effect on stiffening the market in the west, both inland and lake shipments. Shipments from the West Virginia and Kentucky fields are moving to the lake in considerable volume. Consequently the coal market is in very good condition. Pig iron dealers report business good. Several report having received large domestic orders with good indications for the future. Foreign orders have in some instances been stimulated. Steel continues in good demand although there has been a decrease in orders over previous months. Cigar and tobacco jobbers say business holds up well and collections fairly good. Packing houses are handicapped by labor troubles. Machine tools and lathe manufacturers are still very active, not hampered by any extent by strikers as their best labor and mechanics have returned to work regardless of union. Contractors and builders are experiencing some difficulty in getting laborers as they too have organized and are striking. The carriage industry is still busy and predict the best season in five years. Shoe manufacturers report an increase of about 25 percent in gross sales for fall delivery and the same percentage of an advance in prices. Manufacturing clothing have booked large orders for fall and winter goods and are not in a position to fill all more orders. Cotton goods houses find little difficulty in selling their mills output, without salesmen. The furniture industry, in both a manufacturing and wholesale way, report good volume with collections fair to good.

Lexington, Ky.

Dry goods jobbers report a slight decrease in sales as compared to last week, although general business is far in excess of corresponding time last year. The grocery business is above normal and hardware is in good demand. Coal and lumber sales exceed last year by a substantial margin and collections in all lines are reported good.

A REVIEW OF THE WEEK'S MARKETS

New York, June 24.—Mexico formed almost the sole subject of discussion in Wall Street this week. Among bankers there was some conjecture respecting a possible government bond issue to meet expenses connected with the mobilization of troops and maintenance of border patrol. It was stated by competent authorities that the pending negotiations for new loans or credits would be carried to a satisfactory conclusion, regardless of home requirements. In the stock market prices suffered a very irregular downward revision, especially in certain of the more speculative issues. Heavy declines in shares like United States Industrial Alcohol, Tennessee Copper and some of the other metals and specialties were due to speculative causes, notably in the case of Tennessee Copper whose directors ordered a suspension of dividend disbursements. A fall of the better class together with United States Steel and other stock or recognized merit yielded only nominally. Railroad earnings continue to show satisfactory gain over the corresponding period of recent domestic demand for iron and steel generally below the high issues of the early months of the year. Most mills are well booked with orders running into 1917.

The success of the Russian movement against Austria was more clearly reflected in the increasing heaviness of exchange rates to the countries of the Central Powers of the improvement in rubles. Sterling was only slightly altered from its lower rates of last month despite the steady accession in British gold from Canada, which now exceeds $75,000,000 with signs of abatement.

TAKE EVERY PRECAUTION

Eye strain sometimes comes on so gradually that the individual does not realize his trouble until it has reached a serious stage.

In fact there are many effects of eye strain that only a physician would trace to their true source.

The man who does a great deal of work with his eyes, should be on the watch for the first indications of strain and do everything possible to prevent it from occurring.

Sometimes the eyes are in such an irritable condition that the wearing of the ordinary "flat" lenses produces great discomfort. Light is reflected from the rear surface of the lenses and the eyes are wearied by unconsciously trying to focus on these reflections.

Then when looking to either side the edges of such lenses annoy the eyes. These irritations are avoided when you wear Toric lenses. You are not taking every possible precaution against eye strain if you do not get a pair of Torics.

We will be pleased to show you Toric Lenses and explain their advantages. No charge for examination and glasses recommended only when necessary.

LEAGUE MEETING IS TO BE HELD SUNDAY

A meeting of club owners and officials of the Ohio State League will be held Sunday in the Haylin hotel in Cincinnati. President Joe Carr of Columbus will preside.

President W. N. Gableman of the local team will leave early in the morning to attend the meeting. Several important matters are to be considered and each club will be represented.

Steel Plant Gives Back Ohio Ave.

That part of Ohio avenue, New Boston, south of the first alley south of Grane street, which was vacated by New Boston council several months ago in favor of the steel company, after the matter had been discussed pro and con for several weeks, was given back to the village at Friday night's meeting of village council.

The steel company was to give and pave part of West avenue and build a road to the water's edge for a ferry landing at West avenue for the vacated part of Ohio avenue. Since then changes in steel plant improvements have caused the laying of three railroad tracks across West avenue for the steel plant and it was found a suitable road could not be built to the water's edge at the foot of this street. The ordinance repealing the "vacating" ordinance will be passed at the next council meeting.

Mr. Jewett Hurt When Ferry Rope Breaks SOCIETY

When operating a skiff ferry across the Scioto river just north of the city Friday afternoon, Timothy Jewett, well-known farmer, was injured in a singular manner.

The rope used to pull the "ferry" across the Scioto snapped and the recoil struck Mr. Jewett on the right leg, knocking him down in the boat. It was first thought a bone had been broken, but an X-ray picture of the leg taken Saturday showed that no bones had been broken.

PERSHING REPORT

eleven, although in previous despatches he fixed the number at seven. With those who were rescued by Lieutenant Meyer, the total number of those who had returned was 27.

The total number of men in the two troops was learned today to have been 84. General Pershing offering a summary of his information and explaining that his conclusions were based on such information as he had obtained from the stragglers and from press reports, called attention to the indications that there were 57 missing and that press reports indicated 14 of these were dead and 43 prisoners.

General Pershing does not account in his report for the number wounded but appeared to assume that all those wounded had been captured.

General Pershing reported that he had not received a report from the commander of the two squadrons of the eleventh cavalry that had been sent forward to rescue the remnant of the Tenth.

All those brought by Lieutenant Meyer were horse holders and like those who came into camp yesterday were not actually in the light. They had, however, they said, in handling the horses when the furious machine gun and rifle fire began and they retreated before the conclusion of the engagement.

They had cared for such horses as they could round up after they got beyond range of the fire, the full number of mounts in their possession when encountered by Lieut. Meyer, being twenty-five. The troops told their stories before they had re-entered the camp and had an opportunity to talk with the stragglers who had preceded them. The accounts were said to have borne out in all essential details those previously told.

They said they saw General Felix Gomez and his aid riding forward to parley with Captain Boyd and later saw him move toward the flank of the Mexican troops that had begun closing in on the American forces.

According to their story the first intimation any one had that hostilities were determined upon was the outbreak of machine gun fire.

They corroborated the accounts that said it was not until they saw that Captain Boyd gave the command for his men to dismount and return the fire. The Mexicans during the parley had crowded forward and had assumed such position that when they were attacked they were in position to sweep with a killing fire the American line standing exposed in the open.

Officers at General Funston's headquarters seemed convinced after studying General Pershing's latest report that all of the two troops that would be found now would be wounded, and that, therefore, the battered remnant could not have moved far from the scene of the fight. Admission

Compliments Dolly Wise

The Wellston Daily Sentinel, of local interest, Friday said: "Miss Eva McCaffery, of Portsmouth, is the guest of relatives in this city."
"Miss McCaffery, as 'Dollie Wise' of the Portsmouth Times, enjoys more than a state-wide reputation as a newspaper woman, and her page in that excellent paper is the very brightest feature in it. She can answer intelligently every query that comes to her, except one, and that is, 'Dollie, how long do you expect to remain single?' Then she curtly replies, with dark eyes flashing fire, 'Get away from here.' Without her services Editor Taylor would have to make an assignment."
"It is really an oasis in the Sahara of a newspaper man's life to know such a brilliant woman as 'Dollie Wise.'"
"Miss McCaffery after a few days' visit to relatives here will leave with a Portsmouth party for a pleasure trip to Atlantic City, Philadelphia, New York and Washington."

Wheelersburg Gets Another Addition

By a deal closed Saturday morning, Messrs. J. E. Shela, J. N. Hudson and E. O. McCowen became the owners of the fine Frank Cranston farm, located on Dogwood Ridge, within ten minutes' walk of the village of Wheelersburg. The farm comprises 90 acres of beautifully located land and fronts for 2100 feet on the macadam pike leading out from Wheelersburg.

It is the intention of the new owners to lay the farm out in acre lots and place them on the market at the earliest opportunity, at a reasonable figure. The natural gas main will be extended to the new subdivision and every effort made to have it attractive to the investor or home-seeker who may desire a little land in connection with his home.

BOTH LIFE AND DEATH ENTER EDWARDS HOME

Life and death entered the D. Edwards family about the same time for Mrs. David D. Mitchell, daughter of the city treasurer, who passed away suddenly Friday morning, gave birth to a baby daughter, Friday evening at 5 o'clock.

An hour after the birth Mrs. Mitchell turning to Dr. L. G. Locke inquired about her father. "He is resting easy," replied the physician.

"Yes, I guess he is," said she and then addressing her husband said: "You'll tell me all won't you." Seeing that she had surmised that her father was dead the relatives as gently as possible broke the sad news to her and she bore up comparatively well under the circumstances, falling back into a deep sleep. Her condition was reported satisfactory Saturday morning.

Mrs. Mitchell had realized the critical condition of her father. She herself devotedly attended him up to two hours before he passed away, her own illness hastening her return to her own home at 1648 Fifth street Friday morning at one o'clock.

Word was received Friday night from Rev. Rees Edwards, of Jacksonville, Florida, that he would be unable to come for the funeral of his brother, which will take place from the home, 1316 Fifth street, Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. George P. Horst, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, will conduct the services. Burial will be in Greenlawn cemetery.

you are invited. If you care to, you may acknowledge the invitation to the wedding by a simple present or a note, but it is not at all necessary.

Dear Miss Wise—How can I keep my hair from getting so oily and matted. In a few days after I wash it it gets so I can scarcely handle it to do up.

THANK YOU.

The first rule to follow in caring for the hair is keep it clean. In the summertime this is not always so easy as it sounds. Often in hot weather the hair becomes matted and oily if a hat is worn all day and special attention is needed to get it into proper shape. Alcohol and orris root will work wonders. First part the hair in strands and rub between the strands on the scalp with clear alcohol. This takes out much of the dust and oil. Then when the scalp is dry, sprinkle the hair, not the scalp, with orris root. Brush this out thoroughly after about half an hour and let it hang in the breeze for a little time if possible.

Dear Miss Wise—Please let me know the proper acknowledgment of an invitation to a church wedding with "At Home" card enclosed. I cannot attend the church and the new home is out of the city. Thank you.

A SUBSCRIBER.

An invitation to a church wedding needs no acknowledgment. An "At Home" card does not mean that you are invited to the house. It is simply enclosed to let you know where they will live. If there is a reception following the wedding you should write a note of acceptance or regret if man whom I know very well asked me to go to dinner with him the other night. We had not seen each other for a long time. I did not say I had another engagement. Did I do right? DOUBTFUL

You did the absolutely safe thing when all things are considered. There are times, however, and circumstances where there could be harm in your accepting.

Dear Miss Wise—I am 14 years old and my brother is 17. He does not go with the girls and he does not want me to go with him to entertainments. My parents don't care to go. Do you think it proper for him to take me? CATHARINE

Young boys enjoy going out with other boys, but I like very much to see a young man who is thoughtful and kind to a sister. It speaks well for him if he is, and it is a pretty safe way to judge what kind of a husband he will make. Perhaps your father or mother would talk to him and show him where he is denying himself pleasure, as well as falling short in his duty as a brother.

Dear Miss Wise—A few evenings ago at a party I got a drop of ink on a sand-colored silk dress. Can you tell me how to take the ink out of it without taking the color out of the dress? LUCILE

Champs Held To One Hit Are Blanked By The Senators

Coffindaffer Too Clever For Spencer Men Friday; Teams Battle Again Today

LIPPING from his lithe frame, one of the best games of his career, Pitcher Joseph Coffindaffer, he of the thin piping voice and speed ball, blanked the Champs at Millbrook Friday afternoon and held them to one lone hit, a single Fisher got across the infield and which should have been fielded by either Curtis or Daubert. The score was 2 to 0. Coffindaffer issued, transportation slips, but he was so stingy with his hits that not a single local player got around. The Senators had the honor of whitewashing the home team and securing an even split in the first two of a four game series. The game was featured by the pitching of Coffindaffer and the fielding of Bush and Daubert.

FIRST INNING

SECOND INNING
Curtis lined a single to center. Barrett sacrificed, King to Spencer. Curtis took third on Curtis' poor throw to second trying to catch Curtis napping. Coffindaffer fanned. Curtis scored. McDaniel's took third when Billy threw the ball into center field. Costello walked. Calhoun died, Demoe to Spencer. McHenry went out, Daubert to first. Billy struck out. Barrett took care of Spencer.

THIRD INNING
Powell flied to Dills. Calhoun again walked. Daubert grounded to Bauer. Dills' toss beat Curtis to first. Demoe was easy for Coffindaffer and Calhoun. Fisher singled to left. King tried to hit one. He didn't. Barrett hurled to Bush's tap to Calhoun in plenty of time.

FOURTH INNING
Barrett grounded to short. McDaniel's never offered at third one. Costello walked. Calhoun grounded to short. Bauer fanned. Daubert made fine play on Dills' hard smash. Coffindaffer threw out McHenry, another fine play.

FIFTH INNING
Powell soared to Fisher, much to the amusement of the bugs. Calhoun brenched. Daubert followed suit. Dillhoefer whiffed. Spencer ambled.

IT WAS FIRST SHUTOUT

Yesterday was the first time this season the Champs have experienced the sensation of being shut out. The team has played 35 games and had scored a run or more in every contest up to yesterday so the Senators should feel chummy over their well-earned victory.

The Colts Win

The Huntington Boosters suffered another defeat Friday at the hands of the Lexington Colts, the score being 9 to 4. The Boosters made four runs in the first inning, but could not retain their lead. Smith and King worked for Huntington and Howe for the Colts. McClellan made three hits.

Coffindaffer Was Right

Joe Coffindaffer certainly pitched a clever game yesterday. He was wild, but when he did get the ball over the Champs could do nothing with it. He had the old slip and his curve ball stood the Champs on their heads.

In Maysville Monday

The Spencer Men open a four game series in Maysville Monday. It will be their first appearance there since the opening series on May 10 and May 11 when the Champs lost the first one 5 to 1 and won the second one 7 to 3.

Marshall Released

The Senators only have three pitchers with them on the present trip, but Manager Powell has lined out for another hurler. Marshall was let out before the team started for the River City.

PAISY BRANNIGAN

This is Patsy Brannigan, who says he has been fighting in the ring 19 years. He claims this is a record.

14 Passes Were Issued

It is not often that two pitchers give 14 passes on balls and only two runs are scored in the game, but that is what happened yesterday. Coffindaffer issued 7 free tickets and King was not to be out done so he gave the same number, but Coffindaffer only yielded one blow, a puny little roller Fisher sent between short and third.

New Umps Coming

It is quite probable that a new ump will be seen in the league before July 1. Umpire Jacobs has recommended an umpire to President. Gann and he will probably be given a job, the services of Umpire Franklin being far from satisfactory.

In the Gun Turret

Manipulating a big gun in the turret of a battleship is just about as important a form of fighting as exists. In trench warfare you can hear the shell coming in to step out of its path (if you are lucky), but in turret fighting you are shut up tightly in a steel compartment, with no chance of escape. If any enemy projectile strikes the turret you are killed. If the ship shoots your steel trap drowns you. And if you finally defeat the enemy by work ing a brass lever back and forward for five hours you wonder how many of your shots were hits and how many were water-pots.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Friday's scores: Centrals 18, Evangelicals 11; Reds 15, Grays 12.

The Junior league opened its third season Friday afternoon at York Park with a big crowd of fans out. The weather was ideal, and the players came on the diamond with the safe old "pop" which has made them such a successful organization the past two seasons.

OLD TIME SLUGGING FEST

The initial contest for 1916 in the Junior league was an old time slugfest. The game was staged between the Centrals and the Evangelicals, the former winning out by the score of 18 to 11. The two teams cracked out a total of 27 hits; all clean, healthy swats. The score by innings:

Evangelicals	3	12	10
Centrals	6	13	10

Batteries—Lindenmeier, York and Muller; Haag and Haag.

REDS DEFEAT GRAYS

The Reds and Grays pulled off a real thriller in their opener on Friday the former winning out by the class score of 13 to 12. Both teams fought hard all the way through. Both hit the ball hard. Pitcher Smith securing four hits in four times up.

Batteries—Dever and Mohl; Smith and Campbell.

A Prince Edward Island Legend

There is a delightful legend among the people of Point Prim to the effect that when the English attacked the French fort at that place a chain ball from one of the attacking vessels cut the steeple from the old church located over the promontory and carried the bell which it contained into the sea. Dwellers along the point affirm that from time to time the sound of that bell comes over the waters at eventide and that its phantom tone is ever a warning of a fierce storm or some imminent danger to those who make their living by the spoils of the ocean.—Exchange.

The Champs are in the first hitting slump of the season. In the past two games they have only made four hits, which will not win many ball games. Some pitcher is going to get killed when they get back into their hitting stride.

Cornerstone Of Franklin Ave. M. E. Church To Be Laid Sunday

Progressive Band Of Workers Will Soon Have Splendid Home

On Sunday afternoon the cornerstone of the new Franklin Ave. M. E. church, located at the corner of Franklin and Logan streets will be laid with impressive ceremonies. The hour set is four o'clock. Rev. Fred W. Mueller, D. D. District Superintendent and Rev. Albert L. Marting, pastor, will have charge. The choir of the church, as well as the male chorus will sing. There will be an address by Dr. Mueller, as well as other interesting features.

The new church, now in the course of erection, is the third that the little congregation with the big vision will build. These people are ready to sacrifice time, convenience and money in order that God's Kingdom may prosper. They will spend $50,000 in this new enterprise. But as Rev. Marting puts it: "We are not going to the hill, simply to be there, but to do a work."

A little history might prove interesting reading here:

Wm. Nast and John Zwalien visited Portsmouth, O., in the year 1839 and distributed copies of "Der Christliche Apologete" among the Germans of the city. In 1844 Presiding Elder Peter Schumacher preached in the homes of Stephen Brodbeck and Daniel Emrich. Hereupon he requested Rev. John Hoppen to include Portsmouth in his circuit.

Through the efforts of Paul Brodbeck the Fourth St. school building was secured as a meeting place. During the same year a quarterly conference was held in the home of Daniel Emrich.

Twelve persons united with the church, including Paul Vincent and Stephen Brodbeck and Daniel Emrich. In 1845 the Portsmouth circuit included Picketon, Waverly, Beaver, West Union and Mayville. The first trustees, elected May 2, 1846, were: Vincent and Stephen Brodbeck, Daniel Emrich, Conrad Koch and David Elich. A lot was secured on Fourth street between Market and Jefferson streets where a two story church was erected a year later. In 1860 a new site was purchased on the southeast corner of Washington and Fourth streets, but not until 1866 was the erection of the new church begun. The edifice was dedicated to the service of Almighty God on the 18th of July, 1869. John C. Weidman was pastor at that time. In the fall of 1915 this wide-awake and consecrated people decided to answer what seemed a call of God to a larger field of labor and purchased a third building site at Franklin and Logan streets, the history of which enterprise is yet to be written. The following pastors have served this church and congregation:

John Hoppen, John Geier, 1845-46; J. H. Bahrenburg, 1846-48; F. Schimmelpfennig, Asst. 1847-48; John Bier, 1848-9; Val Balduff, Asst.; H. Koch, 1849-50; L. L. LESSON I.—The conversion of Saul, Acts ix, 1-11, 17-19. Golden Text, 1 Tim. 1, 15, "Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief." That God should choose such a vessel for such a purpose is to us a very great mystery, but we know that

Epworth League Convention To Open At Manly Next Wednesday

His way is perfect, and it was a foreshadowing of the conversion of Israel as a nation by His appearing to them in glory, when they shall become a nation of Pauls, with all his zeal.

LESSON II.—Aeneas and Dorcas, Acts ix, 32-43. Golden Text, Tit. ii, 7, "In all things showing thyself an example of good works." The result of these two miracles of health to Aeneas and a return to life in a mortal body to Dorcas (which was no gain to her) was that many turned to the Lord and believed in Him and thus helped to complete His body, the church, the one only thing worth living for.

LESSON III.—Peter and Cornelius, Acts x, 1-16. Golden Text, Rom. x, 12, "The same Lord is Lord of all and is rich unto all that call upon Him." Because of the Easter lesson next week we take the whole chapter and see a gentle household, with kindness and friends, hearing and receiving the word of the Lord, and in His forgiveness, and the gift of the Holy Spirit (verses 24, 44). Note the agents.

LESSON IV.—The risen Christ, 1 Cor. xv, 1-11. Golden Text, 1 Cor. xv, 20, "Now hath Christ been raised from the dead, the first fruits of them that are asleep." Our salvation and all included in it depend upon a risen Christ who waits for a company of people in redeemed bodies like His own. Then shall He begin His reign on earth, and we shall reign with Him till He hath subdued all things unto Himself.

LESSON V.—Peter delivered from prison, Acts xii, 1-11. Golden Text, Ps. xxxiv, 7, "The angel of Jehovah encampeth round about them that fear Him and delivereth them." The devil hates God and Christ and His people and His truth, and seems to think that he can succeed in opposing God, but our Lord has assured us that all the wisdom of hell cannot prevail against Him or His people (Matt. xvi, 18).

LESSON VI.—The missionaries of Antioch, Acts xiii, 13-26; xiii, 1-3. Golden Text, Matt. xxviii, 19, "Go ye therefore and make disciples of all the nations." The disciples were so slow to obey the command to go and tell that the Lord allowed persecution to scatter the believers, and all but the apostles went forth with the word of life even as far as Antioch. Later the Holy Spirit called Paul and Barnabas.

LESSON VII.—Go, we turn to the gentiles, Acts xiii, 13-22. Golden Text, Acts xiii, 47, "I have set thee for a light of the gentiles." On this tour the glad tidings were carried in today's lesson to Cyprus and to Antioch, and we have one of Paul's great sermons, giving the substance of his teaching, which was always Christ crucified and risen and coming again to set up His kingdom and forgiveness for all who receive Him.

LESSON VIII.—The cripple of Lystra, Acts xiv, 8-20. Golden Text, Isa. xl, 20, "He giveth power to the faint, and to him that hath no might He increaseth strength." Everywhere preaching the gospel of the grace of God and the kingdom and magnifying the Lord in life and death, thus they came to place to place (verses 1, 21, 22, 27). The coming to life of Paul and his power to continue were more wonderful than the healing of the lame man.

LESSON IX.—The council at Jerusalem, Acts xv, 1-35. Golden Text, Gal. v, 1, "For freedom Christ set us free." A full salvation through Jesus Christ without any good deeds of ours has always been opposed by the devil from the time of Cain, and never more so than now. Witness the enormity of the Unitarians and others to salvation by the blood of Christ alone, yet Tit. iii, 5, and other texts emphasize "not by works of righteousness."

LESSON X.—The call of the west, Acts xvi, 6-15. Golden Text, Acts xvi, 9, "Come over into Macedonia and help us." Further and farther the glad tidings are carried, for God would have all to hear, but the messengers are so few. In this case human weakness is overruled by God to send out four instead of two missionaries, the Holy Spirit controlling, and the gospel is taken to Europe.

LESSON XI.—Sowing and reaping and the Spirit teaching, Gal. vi, 1-10. Golden Text, 1 Cor. ix, 10, "For the Spirit searcheth all things—yes, the deep things of God." When we become new creatures in Christ by faith alone, then it becomes our privilege to be so given up to the Spirit that He alone may guide and teach and in all things so control that we shall not sow to the flesh nor build to be destroyed.

LESSON XII.—The Philippian Jailers, Acts xvi, 10-24. Golden Text, Acts xvi, 24, "Believe on the Lord Jesus, and

The Six of All The Sixes!

Fairly Prompt Deliveries

This Reo Enjoys a Standing That is Unique Among Sixes

Just read the ads—note and compare the arguments advanced by the different makers in behalf of their Sixes. Most of them—this year anyway—feature speed as the chief characteristic of their product. You hear much of "quick get-away," of sensational "acceleration"—as if that were something new in motor cars! And just when most motorists had come to realize that fifty miles per hour is ample for all sane requirements, you are regaled with tales of one hundred miles and more made by "standard stock cars." Now, we Reo folk do not consider those as fundamental. They are incidental only to the big issue—longevity with reasonable maintenance cost.

Not the "get-away" but the "stay-there"—that is the Reo idea. But if you'll test the "pick-up" of this Reo Six and compare the sensation that you experience you'll be impressed with the fact that the Reo accelerates more smoothly, softly—and as quickly as you can desire. There's none of that tremor you experience in what we Reo folk term "flimsy cars." Make a car light enough—sacrifice stability—and you can have any speed, any "acceleration" you desire. Adopt racing standards, you'll have a racing car. But, when you do that you must not expect also a car that will live as long; that will be as dependable year in and year out; and finally, one, the maintenance and upkeep cost of which is as low as it has proven to be in this Reo Six.

ELEVEN NEW RECRUITS ADDED TO COMPANY K

Things are booming for the local militia company. Since Friday afternoon, eleven new recruits have been added to the company roster. And prospects for many others are very good, according to Capt. Joseph Horchow.

The recruiting station was opened on the Gullin street esplanade Friday afternoon with Sergeant Clifford B. Anderson and Private Hobson Parker in charge. The station is located in one of the government tents which was recently loaned to the fire-sufferers of the big Olway fire.

Before the headquarters were closed Friday evening, seven recruits were secured. Up until Saturday afternoon, four additional names were added to the list, making a total of eleven. Sergeant Anderson stated that there were several who had promised to enlist within the next few days.

The recruits who have responded to the call of the state and nation are: Hobart White, Dan Phillips, Carey M. Williams, R. M. Nutter, William Huffman, Earl Setters, Herbert Brecher, Clarence Kidwell, Leonard Rice, Roy S. Jackson and Roy Bellamy.

Captain Horchow is desirous of enlisting about thirty recruits within the next ten days. With these men, the local company will be organized to full war strength. It was definitely announced Saturday that Company K had unanimously elected Lieutenant Joseph Horchow as captain to succeed James W. Smith, who resigned several months ago. Second Lieutenant Howard Harsha was elected First Lieutenant to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Captain Horchow. A Second Lieutenant will be elected at the next meeting of the company which is to be held Monday night.

pany which is to be held Monday night.

Bulletins containing a copy of the resolution passed Friday afternoon at a meeting of the directors of the Board of Trade and representatives from several manufacturing industries, in which it was stated that those who have enlisted or desired to enlist in the militia could do so with the hearty support of the employers and that their positions would be held for them until their return were distributed through the various plants Saturday morning by R. E. Thomas, secretary of the Board of Trade and Frank M. Rogers, secretary of the Employers' Association.

Information was received by Capt. Horchow Saturday from Col. Harry Knox, Marietta, commanding officer of the Seventh Regiment, to the effect that eight companies for a new regiment had been recruited and prospects for four additional companies were good. The twelve companies of the Seventh Regiment are rapidly being recruited to full war strength. With the First and Seventh Regiments and the new regiment now in process of formation, Ohio will soon have a third brigade ready for service. Dr. William D. Schaefer has donated his services to Company K and is now examining all of the recruits. Capt. Horchow says that the commendable spirit shown by Dr. Schaefer is being manifested by many local citizens. Company K will meet at the armory, Seventh and Chillicothe streets, Monday evening. Every member is urged to be present. Important plans will be discussed.

completely organized, Colonel Knox will tender its services to Governor Willis and suggest that as a new brigade has been completed, efforts be made at Washington to have it called out with the Ohio troops.

Knox Working Hard To Have Seventh Called

Marietta, O., June 24.—In an effort to have members of the Ohio National Guard called out to the front, the local company of the Seventh Regiment, which is now being organized, is working hard to have the Seventh called out. The company is now being organized by Captain Horchow, who is desirous of enlisting about thirty recruits within the next ten days. With these men, the local company will be organized to full war strength. It was definitely announced Saturday that Company K had unanimously elected Lieutenant Joseph Horchow as captain to succeed James W. Smith, who resigned several months ago. Second Lieutenant Howard Harsha was elected First Lieutenant to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Captain Horchow. A Second Lieutenant will be elected at the next meeting of the company which is to be held Monday night.

Beans Exploded

For a time Saturday afternoon John Swearingin, a West End grocer, thought the opening gun in the Mexican war had been fired. Closer investigation proved that the unusual din in his store was caused by a decayed can of beans exploding.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Local German's View Of European War

(Written by Louis F. Korth, former Editor of The Correspondent.)

Friday, June 23, 1916.

The cheek, which the Russians encountered in their new offensive last week on the Styria and the Strya, in Volhynia and Galicia, has been followed by other defeats in both regions. General Linsingen dealt them a heavy blow in their attempt to cross the Styria west of Kolki and cut him off from Kovel, his railroad basis. Boehm-Vormoll defeated them at Lakaishi, southeast of Vladimir-Volynsk in the same region, and General Bothmer thwarted two more attempts to cross the Strya at Przemyśl.

The objective of General Brusilov by Petrograd admission is Lemberg upon which he is moving in two directions, in the north along the Rovno-Brody railroad and in the south toward the Halicz-Lemberg road. Neither movement is safe as long as his flanks are not secure. Linsingen is laying on the northern one and the Austrians are said to be concentrating between Bucacz and Stanislaw to attack the other.

The Petrograd war office on June 20 reported: "On General Brusilov's northern flank the Russian forces have succeeded in checking our advance toward Vladimir for the destruction of the Lemberg railroad between Linsk and Kovel and have broken our lines on different points." This relates to the above named battles, in which about 6,000 prisoners, three field guns and ten machine guns were taken.

Linsingen's front, which before the Russian drive only reached to the Kovel-Sarni railroad, has been extended over a hundred miles further south to the Galician frontier, of which he seems to be master. If the Russians had taken the important railroad center Kovel the whole territory south of the Pripiet down to the Styria would have been untenable for the Germans. Possibly Prince Leopold's army would have been cut off. Furthermore the German front from Pinsk to Baranovitch would have had to be taken back and the latter, an important junction point, as well as Lida surrendered to the Russians. Through the German's victories the Russians have lost important strategic advantages, which a few weeks ago seemed to be in their grasp. Under Linsingen's flanking pressure the Russian advance toward Sokal has also been brought to a halt, while the Austrians are making counter attacks.

In its latest report, June 23, the Russian war office admits that the Germans are advancing in three columns, from Kovel, Vladimir and Sokal, forcing the right wing of Brusilov's army back.

All the operations have been undertaken to relieve the Austrians south of the Dniester and give them time to form a new line in Bukovina, where they are pressed hard by the Russians.

Vienna says: "Austria views the loss of Czernowitz with deep sorrow but with confidence that it will only be temporary. Military critics realize that in view of the enormous numerical superiority of the Russians an extended defense would have caused the entire destruction of the city which has suffered terribly by the bombardment."

The Austrian defense line had been taken back from the Pruth to the Sereth, 15 miles further south, which the Russians seem to have crossed. In Western Bukovina the line has been considerably strengthened. Austrian resistance has been stiffened by German reinforcements. Petrograd states:

Italy has been benefitted by the Russian drive in so far that Austria has had to withdraw forces to its endangered southeastern front. Her offensive has slowed down toward Vienna and Venetia but she holds the ground gained and has redeployed old German Tyrol from foreign occupation.

The Italians have failed in attempts to force the Austrians back in the direction of Asiago and Asiago, although they claim success in the Frenzela Valley. They have renewed their attacks on the Isarco front from where the Austrians have had to make the heaviest withdrawals.

Vienna reports the failure of Italian attacks on the Dolomites and the Doberdo Plateau, likewise of assaults upon the Austrian front southeast of Asiago, where the Austrians captured many prisoners again and five machine guns. In the Tyrolean Orler district they are now on the summit of the Takat and Madatsh ridges.

On the whole western front intense fighting is going on, from the Belgian coast to the Somme and Aysne and to Verdun. The Germans are on the offensive again in Champagne and on both sides of the Meuse around Verdun. West of Fort Vaux they have made further progress toward the river by taking another trench section. It isn't much but it shows that the Russian scare does not extend to German lines at Verdun.

The Turkish war office reports: British forces, attempting to cross the Euphrates at Korna, Mesopotamia, were driven back. On the Turkish-Persian frontier north of Suleiman the Russians were defeated in a three days' engagement and retreated to Bana, leaving two guns, five machine guns and much war material in our hands.

By their starvation blockade of the Greek ports the Allies have forced King Constantine to dismiss the Zouglou cabinet and charge Zaimis with forming a new political one of Chamaeleon hue.

London claims to have news that a counter revolution among the Shihi Arabs against Turkey has broken out. Mecca, Jidda and Taif are said to be in the hands of the rebels, who are besieging Medina.

On both fronts of the German army commands from general headquarters to divisions and brigades and from there to regiments, battalions and batteries are now given by wireless, where telephone and telegraph wires can't be strung or on long distance. The higher commands are supplied with motor Marconis, the lower ones with a small apparatus which is carried on horse back. The wireless service has proved a big campaign help.

The German Admiralty has issued a statement against the British claim that the German losses in the Skagerrak battle were not less than the British. It says the Germans lost six cruisers and five torpedo boats, 172 officers killed and 41 wounded, 2,414 men killed and 449 wounded against 343 British officers killed, 51 wounded and 6,704 men killed and 513 wounded.

The Frankfurter Zeitung says about the probability of war between the United States and Mexico: "If Mexico stands alone there can be no doubt about the outcome. The United States is better prepared for war now than at any time in its history. If Mexico however is backed by Japan or South America, as rumors have it, we may see another world war in the western hemisphere. Hardly!"

The British powder manufacturer T. H. Curtiss, just arrived from London, says that the British munition factories now fill all the demands over there and there will be few orders after this for the states. What the British need most is a new horse supply. The United States are short, but the export embargo of Canada has proved helpful in the emergency.

To an inquiry about efforts of the Allied powers to prevent a break between the United States and Mexico and Germany's contrary attitude in the matter the representative of the Washington Post received this answer at the German embassy: "We are not informed but we know that Germany has no interest whatever to incite to strife. It does not meddle either in the affairs of the United States or of Mexico." The attitude of the German government in the matter has been altogether correct.

To meet the demand of Maurice Leon and others in the Philadelphia Ledger that congress cancel the charter of the German-American National-Bund its executive has asked for the appointment of a congressional committee to investigate the charges of illloyalty against the Bund, so it can prove that it never committed an illloyal act in the interest of a foreign government or has done anything not in harmony with the principles of highest American patriotism. It says, it is high time that true and loyal American citizens, who happen to be of German descent, are protected against the calumnies and persecutions of rampant political demagogues for their opinions' sake. The finding of such committee would enable fair and impartial newspapers to decline the publication of incendiary articles like the one in the Ledger.

In their declaration of principles the German Catholic Societies of Wisconsin, which lately met in joint convention at Racine, proclaim: "America above all, above everything in the world," but they demand liberty of speech and print as guaranteed by the constitution. The man who is not loyal to the flag is an exile in his own country, they say.

The Illinois Staats Zeitung, one of the oldest German papers and the oldest Republican one in the states, says about the Mexican war crisis: "When the lightning strikes the political hyphen of Mr. Wilson's imagination will disappear and the desire to defend the country against every possible danger, quickly and thoroughly, will unite all citizens, no matter to what political party they may belong or what the origin of their nationality may be."

Bernhard Kellermann, one of the best known German war correspondents at the west front, in a description of British prisoners at Givenchy just out of battle says, it is a mistake to suppose that most of them come out of the slums of White Chapel. You can tell by their love of cleanliness that they come from good stock. When asked, why they volunteered, they answer: "We fight because we have to, not because we hate the Germans. We fight for England." The officers are of the opinion that Germany cannot hold through. England has the men and the money. The longer the war lasts the better England's chances, they argue. The Tommies do not have much drill in them, they don't march like soldiers but like baseball players, and all to the tune of Tipperary, which they start with one voice to get into step, which is hard for most of them. It is their music.

In a book which Joseph Bertoudoux, the French writer, has published in Berne, Switzerland, because he could not get it printed in France, named "Verite", he says that history has been falsified by the leading men of his country. The French people never got to know the truth about the war. Nobody dares to talk about the documents found by the Germans in the Belgian archives, which give the facts.

While attending the memorial service for the dead field marshal, Von Der Goltz in Berlin General Helmuth von Moltke, the nephew of the great Moltke, and former chief of staff, who retired after the Marne campaign on account of failing health, was felled by a stroke of apoplexy.

General Von Kluck, who was wounded by shrapnel at the inspection of his lines on the Aisne, in March, 1915, but has been cured, has been declared unfit for field service because one of the balls could not be extracted and has caused new inflammation. He will receive a home command. On May 25, he celebrated his seventieth birthday.

In a large volume of some 700 pages, the Turkish government has gathered all the documents, relating to the anti-Turkish revolutionary propaganda in Armenia, the suppression of which has led to the massacre charges. Copies have been furnished to all the embassies in Constantinople, including the American.

In an interview with the representative of an American newspaper the German Chancellor said: "Do our enemies, who talk of the despotic German government, ever consider that I have no solid one party to lean upon like President Wilson, but have to account for all I do to twelve different ones that represent the people in parliament? The world does not understand our form of government. We are the most democratic people on earth of whom every one is an independent and critical thinker and, what has caused me many sleepless nights, does not hesitate for a moment to say what he thinks. We have freedom of speech and print in Germany."

In a memorandum attached to the budget of 1916 the Russian minister of finance cites the occupation of Western Russia by the Germans, the million flood of refugees, serious traffic disturbances all through the empire and the scarcity of fuel as the principal causes of Russia's economic distress. Fear of a famine is expressed in all the Russian papers. Crop prospects are the worst since years and no surplus from last harvest.

Novaja Wrenya complains that the last Russian war loan found no takers in friendly France. The Credit Lyonnais, the largest French bank, only sold 300,000 Rubles. This is the reason why the Russian government had to go to the Morgans.

Holland, which is short of foodstuffs, has forbidden the exportation of them until conditions become normal again.

Hamburg papers assert that the British fleet, which fought the German fleet at Hornsiff, had orders to occupy the Danish island Langeland, where a British expedition from Yarmouth was to land and march through Denmark upon Slesvic. Denmark was to be forced like Greece at Saloniki to submit.

When England and Russia divided Persia they left a neutral zone between their so-called spheres of interest. The Russian Bagdad expedition had to invade this zone on its march to the Tigris. Now the Anglo-Persian Oil Co., which plays the same part in Persia as the British oil interests do in Mexico, have complained of trespass in London which may lead to after war trouble between the two big powers.

In the fiscal year 1913-1914 Germany imported from the United States goods to the value of $344,797,300 and exported $189,919,000. It traded with the United States to the extent of $534,720,000 a year and was one of its best customers.

Great Britain now has 5,000 munition factories at work, Lloyd George says. That certainly ought to win the war for it.

Russia has adopted the German food card system in its main features.

The high price of sole leather has created a new industry in Germany, the manufacture of wooden soles for the peasantry, made of linden trees, such as we have on Market street square.

Of the million Marks which have been realized by the Philadelphia Bazar for the war sufferers in Germany and Austria 100,000 have been sent to prisoners in Siberia, 50,000 to East Prussia, 50,000 to the American Hospital in Munich, 50,000 to Ambassador Gerard for the American Relief Society in Berlin and the rest to the Red Cross in Germany and Austria.

A New York paper writes: "The death of Lord Kitchener gave our Anglo churchmen, who pray for King George on St. George's day, the opportunity to show the quality of their Americanism by holding a memorial service for him in old Trinity church. We have not heard that the Germans did the same for young Moltke and Von Der Goltz, who died in the same tragic manner as Kitchener did."

The Holland-America and the Skandinavien-America lines have raised their passenger rates by 25 to 33 per cent on account of the loss of time caused by British search of their ships, as they claim.

Will Pay $200 For Land Or Condemn

A resolution was passed by the county commissioners Friday afternoon asking Judge Thomas C. Beatty, probate court, to offer Mrs. Minnie Kentley, Munn's Run $200 for a small tract of land which the commissioners desire to purchase to straighten a curve in the Munn's Run road. The county commissioners have been negotiating for the purchase of the land for some time but have failed to reach a compromise.

Judge Beatty has been given a condemnation petition which will be served should the owner refuse to accept the price offered by the commissioners for the land.

Recently a delegation of local citizens viewed the land which the county desires to obtain with a view of setting a reasonable price on the same.

Charley Chaplin is making arrangements to be starred in a film to be called "At The Seaside." It is said that more elaborate arrangements will be made for this picture than any Chaplin has yet taken part in.

Work on the new addition to the Columbia theatre is progressing satisfactory. The excavating will be completed within a few days and the brickwork will be started.

Four new picture houses opened in New York this week.

Charley Chaplin's life has been insured for $600,000.

Nat C. Goodwin will soon show a screen version of all of his old time comedies.

"THE BARRIER" TO BE GREAT FEATURE

Making haste slowly in plans for the furthering of the announced effort to make the screen version of Rex Beach's novel, "The Barrier," mark a new era in super-photoplay production, the Lubin company is presently absorbed in the final details of a problem which promises successful solution within the next few weeks.

Until then all information as to the nature of the innovation will receive as much publicity as the German war staff gives to the allies regarding its intentions.

WORK PROGRESSING ON HART PICTURE

William S. Hart is now working at Inceville as the star of a new "western" Triangle play from the pen of C. Gardner Sullivan. It is another "bad man" story, the character Hart is portraying being akin in a great degree to that of Steve Denton in "The Aryan" and "Blaze Tracy in 'Hell's Hinges'."

The first scenes for the story are being made in what is unquestionably the largest setting of its kind ever erected at Inceville. It is intended to depict the interior of a western "honkytonk" and is spread out on the entire floor space of the main stage at the plant in Santa Monica mountains. Nearly 500 persons are engaged in the filming of the scene.

Every young girl in Santa Barbara is training to become a movie actress—all on account of Mary Miles Minter; and, at the American studios, so great is the admiration of girlhood for the little Mutual star that the stage hands have to string ropes around the "set" in the big glass studio.

IN SCREENLAND

WHEN about eighteen years old, Beverly Bayne—whose real name is Pearl Van Nune—applied to the Chicago Essanay company for a position. Her beauty attracted immediate attention and she was engaged as an "extra."

Being an ambitious child, as well as a capable one, she did not remain "extra" for long. Soon she was playing leads and it was not so many moons before Francis X. Bushman expressed the desire to have her play opposite him. She was a factor in the picture in which he first made a decided hit—"Dear Old Girl." Miss Bayne remained with the Essanay company as long as did Mr. Bushman—and a trifle longer—then she went to join his company in California, and now she plays opposite him in Metro productions, the scene of their labors being in New York. Miss Bayne was born in Minneapolis, November 22, 1894. She did no work of any kind, unless the business of acquiring an occupation can be classified as labor, until she went to the Essanay company. She is five feet, five inches tall, has brown hair and eyes, and a smile that's done a lot for her—and for us.

She is unmarried, fond of out-of-door sports, and loves to dance.

The Lyric for next week has a very attractive layout of "high-class" pictures. You will find every picture a real feature.

Monday's big special comes from the Essanay Company on "The Big Four Program," a striking dramatic offering called "That Sort," taken from the stage play and featuring Wanda Howard, Duane McTear and Ernest Maupin. An exceptional picture.

Tuesday's Paramount needs no recommendation. It is Dustin Farnum in "David Garrick," the prince of romantic actors in the greatest romantic drama ever written. An extravagant, beautiful production.

Wednesday brings the best picture shown in town this year—Clara Kimball Young in "The Feast of Life," a five-act picture that so far outshines anything you have ever seen that there is no comparison. Don't let anything keep you away from it. The admission will be the usual time.

Thursday is Billie Burke day, the second episode of "Gloria's Romance," entitled "Captured By the Seminoles," will be shown, along with another short high-class story of "The Social Pirates," called "The Corsican Sisters."

Friday's Paramount will be Valentine Grant in "The Innocent Lie." This is the first appearance of this beautiful talented artist in pictures and you will place her among the favorites as soon as you see her. "The Innocent Lie" is a splendid dramatic story. A Famous Players production.

Saturday's picture brings a wonderful actress, Gertrude McCoy, in "The Isle of Love"—5 acts. Don't miss this picture if you can possibly get in to see it.

In addition to all these good things the "Paramount-Bray Cartoon Comedies" will be shown every Tuesday and the Paramount-Burton Holmes Travel Pictures every Friday. Then, of course, the music is always a treat at the Lyric. Davisson's Trio never gets that tired feeling in their music.

Another good program of high-class picture productions is announced for next week at the Columbia, starting Monday with a "Triangle" program presenting Douglas Fairbanks in "The Habit of Happiness" and "By Stork Delivery," a two part Keystone comedy with Mack Swain.

Tuesday brings Little Mary Miles Minter in "Dimples," a five-part story of childhood days, in which Miss Minter has unusual opportunities.

The Fox production for Wednesday is "The Fool's Revenge," featuring Maude Gilbert, William H. Tooker and Ruth Findlay.

The "Triangle" program for Thursday is another good one, with Jane Grey in "The Waifs," a five-part Griffith production and "An Oily Scoundrel," a two part Keystone comedy with Fred Mace.

On Friday comes a double program consisting of two separate subjects in "Wild Beasts at Large," a two reel wild animal picture, and "The Devil Within," a three-reel production with Stuart Holmes.

"When Love is King" is an interesting five part Klein production for next Saturday, featuring Richard Tucker and Carrol McComas.

WHY LADIES LIKE DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS

Probably the reason Douglas Fairbanks, the Triangle star who is appearing in "Reggie Mixes In," has become such an overwhelming favorite of the screen is because he typifies just what we would like the American man to be. One is disposed to think that if all American men resembled in manner the screen Douglas Fairbanks there would be no much ado over either "preparedness" or the Mexican situation, which amounts to the same thing.

Not only the newspapers but the movie news weeklies were up against it in the picture line so far as Justice Hughes was concerned. Hughes is known among motion picture cameramen and newspaper photographers as one of the most difficult men in the United States to film.

William Russell's next big five reeler, in the series personally supervised and presented by Samuel S. Hetchison, is to be "The Torch Bearer," in which he appears as the millionaire owner-editor of a newspaper the watchword of which is "Clean Politics."

"Somewhere in France," the last story from the pen of the late Richard Harding Davis, has been purchased for Triangle by Thomas H. Ince, it was announced this week, and is now being made ready for early production in the Triangle studios.

Dustin Farnum

Dustin Farnum in "David Garrick" at the Lyric Tuesday

In "David Garrick," the latest Pallas photoplay released on the Paramount program, a strong and masterly acted scene is the duel between Garrick and "one who had spoken lightly of a woman's name."

Not a stage duel between inexperienced and mediocre swordsmen but a desperate and very real fray between daring and determined men.

Now Dustin Farnum is an expert fencer and his opponent was a European trained swordsman who knew every trick at foils. So at the appointed signal an actual combat without masks or

ONE OF THE MANY GRIPPING SCENES IN "THE HABIT OF HAPPINESS"—TRIANGLE-FINE ARTS

Columbia Monday

For novel openings, the new Triangle-Fine Arts picture, "The Habit of Happiness," could scarcely be excelled.

The first flash on the screen shows a bed, with three heads on the pillows. In the center is the face of Douglas Fairbanks. On either side of his countenance there is a collection of whiskers, dirt, wrinkles and other unattractive material which in some degree may be said to suggest the physiognomy of a human being.

Fairbanks, awaking, looks to one side of him and then to the other. At first he is inclined to think himself the victim of a waking nightmare, but on looking about the room he discovers that what confronts him is not a vision, but grimy reality. Scattered over the floor, sprawled in easy chairs, propped against the wall are some dozen specimens of the human derelict known by the name of bum.

And such bums! The Bowers was searched for "types," and the resulting collection is remarkable both for variety and picturesque. The scenes in which the derelicts take part are technically comedy, but to any spectator who looks at the picture with his heart as well as his eyes, there is a good deal more than comedy in the worn, weary, hopeless faces.

ALL STAR CAST

An all star cast, including Ethel Clayton, Holbrook Blinn, Emmett Corrigan, Gerda Holmes, Mantel Love and Dion Titheridge, appearing in "Husband and Wife" under the direction of William A. Brady, completed a five reel picture in two weeks. So remarkable was the result that Mr. Brady has decided to use all the World Film stars in a series of all-star productions.

Road Testing Is Retained By 'Olds' Firm

Road testing discarded by many automobile manufacturers of recent years, to cut cost of production, still finds a sturdy champion in the Olds Motor Works, of Lansing, Mich., says E. L. Anderson, local agent for the car.

This concern, throughout the 17 years of its manufacturing existence, has steadily clung to the idea that there is but one way of effectively and thoroughly testing a finished automobile, i. e. by running it over a difficult road for a prolonged period at high speed.

More effectively to attain this object a special test track a half mile long was built adjacent to the Olds plant many years ago, and has been in use ever since.

The surface of this track is designed to bring out any defects that may be concealed in any part of the car. There are ruts and bumps, hillocks, stretches of sand and gravel, in fine, all sorts of natural hazards such as a car would encounter in actual road work.

As a result, when an Oldsmobile tester hands in a car as passed, it is 99.9 a safe bet that it is entirely free from mechanical error. There is no further testing to be done by the subsequent buyer. So satisfactory has the experience of the Olds Motor Works been with road testing, that even though the production of the concern will go beyond 20,000 cars next year, greatly raising the sum total of any individual manufacturing item, the road test will nevertheless be adhered to as an indispensable factor in Olds production methods.

ANOTHER ROAD RECORD FOR THE CHALMERS SIX-30

Piloting the same Chalmers Six-30 that he broke the Chicago-New York road record two weeks ago, Ben F. Durham arrived in Indianapolis on June 19 from Detroit with a new record of eight hours and twenty-two minutes for the 305 mile run.

Two hundred and sixty miles of the Indianapolis trip were made in a driving rain, over roads flooded by recent continued bad weather. Numerous detours at points where new stretches of road were under construction caused delay, as did the breaking of a steel axle, which spelled a loss of nineteen minutes for repairs.

"The performance of the 3050 B. P. M. Chalmers under conditions even worse than at my New York trip was a revelation to me," said Durham on his arrival at Indianapolis. "Although the roads were in bad shape, we did not use chains at any point, the wonderful ride of a car keeping us right side up at all times. Our average of 35.9 miles per hour for the trip is a remarkable one, considering weather conditions. I am confident, though,

Goodrich Firm To Pay Employees While In Service Of Nation

The B. F. Goodrich Company has issued the following notice to employees enlisted in state military and naval organizations:

In order, insofar as possible, to relieve from financial worry those of our employees who are subject to military duty and also as an expression of desire on the part of this company to make substantial recognition of this opportunity to co-operate with its employees in carrying out its share of the common duty of all to answer the national call for military assistance, the policy of this company will be as follows:

"This announcement applies to all employees of this company formally enrolled as members in good standing in any state military or naval organization at midnight, June 19th, 1916, and who are accepted by the proper military officers for active service in the present Mexican crisis.

"In case of orders being issued by the military authorities requiring the services of employees mentioned above for actual military duty, necessitating absence from the regular duties of this company, compensation will be awarded as follows:

"After allowance being made for payment for service by the government, or state, or from any other source, the direct result of military service, this company will pay as military compensation the difference between such sources of income and the following:

"To all married and single men contributing regularly to the support of actual dependents, two-thirds (2-3) of their average salary or wage based on their previous average salary or wage earned during the three months preceding their absence.

"To all single or married men not contributing regularly to the support of actual dependents, one-half (1/2) of their average salary or wage.

"The period of absence on military duty will not be considered a breach in continuity of service as affecting our life insurance or pension regulations, but such time of absence will be included in the company service record of each employee the same as if he had not engaged in military service. During such absence of an employee, the life insurance issued to him by this company will remain in full force and effect.

"Discrimination will not be made in any manner against any employee upon his return from military service, and as far as possible arrangements will be made for each man to return to his former position.

"The above conditions will apply to employees whose extent of absence is one year or less, continuously in state military or naval service, but the privilege of the company is recognized to make such modifications, extensions or abrogations of these conditions at any future time as may appear advisable."

NEW MODEL IS ANNOUNCED BY OVERLAND FIRM

Like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky has come the announcement of a new model by the Willys-Overland company, of Toledo, Ohio, which is destined, in the opinion of those who have already seen it, to cause a greater stir in automobile circles than any of the many sensational developments in motor car building which have occurred during recent years. The most powerful low priced car in the world is the description given of this new product of the great Toledo factory and it is to be known technically as The Willys-Overland company's New Series Model 75-B. In spite of the nationwide lamentations concerning the increasing cost of materials, labor and manufacturing equipment, this latest motor vehicle is to be sold at $635 for the touring car and $620 for the roadster—prices which are said to be equally as sensational as the performance of the car itself.

Maxwell Non-Stop Car Still Gives Wonderful Service

The famous non-stop Maxwell, the car that startled the automobile world last January, when it piled up a mileage of more than 22,000 in forty-four days without a stop of the motor, has been making more fame for itself. The car is back in its garage at the Lord Motor Car Co., in Los Angeles, after an extended tour of Southern California, the Mexican border and Arizona. Its speedometer now registers a total mileage of 30,635 miles, a distance surpassing the world's circumference by more than 5,000 miles.

No more splendid endorsement of Maxwell efficiency can be found than in the performance of the Champion. Motor enthusiasts who figured that the non-stop hero was done after its remarkable feat of rolling up 22,000 miles without a stop, were sadly mistaken.

Hudson Engineers Recognized Among Best In The Business

The Hudson engineering staff, headed by Howard E. Coffin, is widely considered the best in the industry, says a well known friend of the Hudson Motor Company. It has for years been commanding increasing respect.

This engineering corps has been one of the greatest factors in motor car advancement. Perhaps the greatest factor. At least it has done more than any other to lower prices on high-grade cars. Its greatest accomplishment in late years has been the development of the Light Six. That type of car, pioneered by them, came to dominate the field. It forced out all the old types. On these lines, Hudson came to outsell any other quality car in the world. In two years that Light Six multiplied our production by four.

MAXWELL CARS PROVE SPLENDID AIDS TO U. S. TROOPS IN MEXICO

These views give some conception of what trooping in Mexico really means. Maxwell cars by reason of their superior road qualities have been able to penetrate far to the south and the accompanying pictures were taken in Chihuahua. The Maxwell makes a good fortress when occasion arises. The character of the roads is indicated in the lower picture.

MOTOR MOST COSTLY FACTOR

The motor is the most intricate and expensive single factor in the construction of an automobile, representing in round numbers one-quarter of the cost of the finished product. With an electric self-starter it represents even more. So much for money-worth. In point of service possibilities and general satisfaction, the motor represents more nearly 75 per cent of any automobile's value.

The Buick Valve-in-head Motor is guaranteed to have more speed, more power and to be more economical in fuel consumption than any other type of motor ever built.

Cost Two Cents Per Mile For Ford Use

Just as naturally as automobiles step into a certain gait and road speed, so Ford cars range themselves in the expense class at about two cents a mile to operate and keep up. And that pays for one passenger—or two—or the whole family. This record made by Harry E. Walsworth, of St. John's Mich., covers an entire season's mileage of 9,000 miles and it's even under average.

"Last year I kept accurate account of the mileage obtained and gasoline consumed by my 1913 Ford motor No. 259,813, and think that perhaps the results will be of interest to you.

"I traveled a distance of 9,000 miles during the season of 1915, with an average gasoline consumption of 26 miles to the gallon for the entire season, and my entire upkeep cost, including six new casings and tubes, was less than two cents per mile."

Citizens Must Work Together

The only way to build a city, increase its industrial activities and establish for it an enviable position in the business centers of the world is for its citizens to get together and work together, in the opinion of John N. Willys, president of the Willys-Overland company, of Toledo, the largest automobile manufacturing plant in the world. Despite his active participation in the affairs of his immense factory, Mr. Willys contributes considerable time and financial assistance to the development of municipal growth. He is an enthusiastic supporter of all live chamber of commerce organizations.

The Tallow Dip Goes Out!

A Boston firm, which operated the largest tallow dip factory in the country, which, of a fact, was about the sole survivor in this once general and flourishing industry, announced, last week, that it would discontinue the making of the candles. Thus another institution of the past makes surrender to progress. A generation ago not only every well regulated, but most every family of every kind, kept a stock of tallow candles on hand, according to their prudence and means. Now most families, especially those in town, have little knowledge of this mode of lighting and less use for it. That is rather strange for the tallow dip still remains with us as the measure of light. For we still speak and will so continue for many years, of a given brilliancy as so many candle power, 16-candle lamp, 40-candle, 60-candle, 80-candle, 1200-candle and 2000-candle are terms of hourly use, in speaking of electric illumination. And could things thus so intimately connected be so far apart. The tallow dip was a necessity, but it was a nuisance. Danger and discomfort were its accompaniments and qualities. Recalls the hunting for a match, a place to strike it, the melted tallow running down onto fingers and scorching them, the upsetting of the pesky thing when it was set down without its "stick," which by-the-way wasn't a stick at all, but a hollow tube with a base in which the candle was stuck, that is when the family had enough "sticks," but a family was never known to have enough for every candle in use. Well, may be there was one family that had enough, but memory recalls no instance where an extra candle and a stick could be found in speaking distance of each other. Still, we wouldn't speak altogether disparagingly of the tallow dip; it had its uses and it was mighty handy at times. It is not at all the same with the electric candle. It is absolutely the most wonderful of all inventions because it is a prime necessity and at the same time the best of all comforts and the finest of luxuries. You often here people say they would like to have a taste of luxury—they can get it almost for nothing in the electric current. There isn't a particle of noise, dirt, disorder, confusion or annoyance about it, scarce so much an effort required to reach its enjoyment. Merely pressing a button brings a veritable flood of light, the cooling breezes to blowing, or the water steaming on the stove—things of more life and daily importance to you than that it moves the cars along the streets and across country, wheels the big wheels in industries, and talks clear around the earth and chatters through invisible space. It is the pleasant thing, the comfortable thing, the important thing, the useful thing, the necessitous thing, the one luxurious thing you can demand in your home and know you are doing the most economical thing. Whether you own your home or rent it, you ought to see it has electric service.

We will be glad to talk to you anytime about how little it costs and what are its manifold advantages.

GERMAN TROOPS UNDER VON LINSINGEN HAVE ENVELOPED THE RUSSIANS

Berlin, (via London) June 24.—The German counter attack against the Russians under General Brussiloff in Volhynia has now developed over a front of eighty miles, extending from Roki on the Sty river almost to the Galician frontier. General Von Linsingen's forces have enveloped the Russians who here had driven a big bend into the Austro-German lines in front and on both flanks and now according to all reports reaching here are slowly but surely pressing the Russians back all along the line in the general direction of Lutsk.

Although considerably reinforced Von Linsingen recently confronted here highly superior numbers, which, however, have been unable to check his counter attack and start the Russian steam roller again in the direction of coveted Kovel and Vladimir-Volynski. The Russian losses are described as enormous. Russian officers time and again led their men in desperate but fruitless charges against the German lines.

The country covered by these engagements is extremely difficult, imbedded by swamps and the fighting therefore has been at close quarters.

To relieve the pressure upon this semi-circle before Lutsk, the Russians have resumed the offensive against General Count Von Behner's lines along the Galician frontier.

Russian gains are reported only from the front in Bukovina south of the Dniester.

COMPLEXION BAD, APPETITE POOR, LIVER NOT ACTIVE?

A Wineglassful of Tollo Water Will Make Your Liver Act Freely in Half an Hour.

Medical science has proven that the bile made by the liver is nature's only laxative. When the liver is doing its work properly the bile flows freely into the bowels, keeping them regular as a clock. When the bile tubes become clogged the bile is forced back into the system, causing sallow skin, bad complexion, loss of appetite, headaches, gassy stomach, heartburn and other symptoms of biliousness.

Concentrated Tollo Water gives surest and quickest relief—in half an hour. You can prove it by taking a third of a tumbler full of Tollo Water in a glass of plain water. It will dissolve the obstructions in the bile tubes and wash out the liver just as clean and as thoroughly as soap and water cleans your skin.

The minute the liver is clean and active the complexion begins to clear up and the appetite becomes normal. You can eat what you like without pain or inconvenience afterwards. Get a 15-cent bottle from the drug store and try it before breakfast tomorrow morning. It is not like calomel and other strong drugs that sate, upset the stomach and weaken the system—it builds as it cleans. Take a little every morning until the complexion returns to its natural pink shade and the appetite is good. After that an occasional wineglassful before breakfast will keep the liver active and you will have your usual good health.

GOING TO WAR

President Wilson does well in steadfastly refusing to precipitate this nation into war with Mexico.
War is ever to be deplored. The necessities of right and honor may and does often make it unavoidable, but that does not relieve it from its horrors and sufferings, which should never be precipitated except as an extremity.
Even where it becomes unavoidable no country is justified in entering into it without making such adequate preparation as will enable it to meet, in so far as its resources will permit, the exigencies of the situation. That, in the event of the breaking out of hostilities, the United States will overcome Mexico, goes with no more than the saying. But that the contest will not be the gay parade that our former encounter with her was, none at all versed in conditions will have the hardihood to claim. Quite the contrary, while military experts have no doubt of early and complete victory for American troops, their belief is that it will take at least half a million men to hold the country and maintain order until such time as terms of permanent peace may be agreed upon. So hereto is the much desired "watchful waiting" of President Wilson shown both discreet and wise. Bending every energy, exercising that calmness and justice which the strong should ever be surest in extending to the weak, to maintain honorable peace, he has patiently endured aggravation from Mexico and the fault-finding of enemies at home, losing nothing thereby in any sense, since the regular army is practically concentrated on the border and other military precaution so well forward, that should an actual clash come, our armies could at once begin the delivery of the smashing blows that is expected of them.

A GREAT IRON HIGHWAY

Commenting on the high record made in the stock market by the Norfolk & Western, the Wall Street Journal says:
"The activity and strength recently displayed by Norfolk & Western, resulting in an advance to the highest price at which the stock has ever sold, have been based not only on the increase of the dividend from six per cent to 7 per cent and the declaration of an extra one per cent at the last declaration, but on expectation of further developments of the same kind within a reasonable time."
Although Norfolk & Western is operating at the lowest ton mile of almost any railroad in the country, its efficiency is of such high order that it is earning at the rate of about eighteen per cent for its common stock. The excellent returns in net reflect the judicious heavy expenditures for improvements which have put the whole property in excellent physical condition, while economies in operation have also been secured through the electrification of the low grade division. The rate basis is so low that any reduction of it may be considered out of the question; and there is hardly anything that can happen to a road which can make large profits with rates as low as those received by Norfolk & Western. The road is what might be called a finished proposition, strong in cash, physically perfect, and ably managed."

FLOWERS

"Flowers," said Henry Ward Beecher once, "are the only things God ever created that he forgot to put a soul into." There is something in the delicate, innocent beauty of a flower that leaves the man or woman a little better for having looked upon it. Emerson had this in mind, no doubt, when he wrote his poem to "Rhodora," which concludes with the line that always occurs to us when we pass a bunch of wild roses, a bed of irises or a bank of violets:

"Beauty is its own excuse for being."
Ruminations such as these occurred to us today as we looked across our desk where some one had placed a vase full of peonies. Beautiful white blooms they were, just freshly plucked, with a faint hue of pink blushing through their petals, and seemingly redolent of all the sweet perfume of the garden from which they had just been taken.

Without flowers some of the brightest bits of consolation would be lacking from this life. Spring would not be and summer's charms would be darkened. Flowers alone in the desolation of a death scene seem to hold out one ray of hope. Some of the greatest passages of literature have been rhapsodies of flowers. Perhaps the most noted lines of Milton's Lycidas are those in which he speaks of the rather primrose, the pale jessamine, the croceted crowfoot, the amaranthus, and the daffodils. The landscape painter's art without flowers would be rapid.

But greatest of all what an air of purity, sweetness and goodness, a vase full of flowers will lend to a room. We went back to work with a more wholesome faith in the goodness of things after these reflections on the blooms before us.—Akron Beacon-Journal.

The Society of Automobile Engineers endeavors to cheer us by pointing out that the increased price of gasoline doesn't affect us much. Everyday Wisdom

ADVICE TO YOUNG MEN IN LOVE

Hate little children. Don't stop to pat little children on the street. Don't pay any attention to babies.

Don't make a fuss about wild flowers.

Don't stop to listen to birds. Ignore calves, little chickens just hatched out, kittens, and puppies.

Don't put on any interest in show windows, women's clothes, lingerie, window curtains, draperies or wall paper.

Don't notice cute little bungalows. Don't affect an interest in kitchen arrangement.

Don't use words like "lovely," "lovable," "sweet," "dear," "delectable," or "delightful."

Hate nature.

Hate scenery.

Don't talk about books you have not read.

Don't say "Well, well!" and "Yes, yes," and "Is that so?" every once in a while when your girl is talking to you. Wait until she gets through and then say: "What did you say?"

Don't tell about how many cold baths you take.

The Oriole's Nest

Just as LADY BALTIMORE ORIOLE had told Willy Wood-rat that she built her nest from the tip of a branch and hung it downward to keep away prowlers, a great breeze came blowing along, and away the branch so that Willy had to scamper back to the firmer branches for safety. Never before had he gone so near to the end of a limb and never would he again, for he had a narrow escape from falling.

But he thought he must learn more about that wise little bird. So as soon as the trees were quiet again he determined to go back. And this time he had Mrs. Willy go with him. He knew she would enjoy the bird's story, should they be lucky enough to get the little lady to talk, as much as he would. "It was right out at the end of this branch," he said as they climbed up the tree. "Right out here. There! See that little bag hanging from the twig—see?"

Mrs. Willy looked where he pointed and sure enough! There was the oriole's nest! It looked like a small brown bag and it was laced so firmly to the twig that even the inexperienced wood-rats could tell that it hung very safely.

"Isn't it queer?" asked Willy, and you would have thought from the pride he displayed in showing off the nest that he had made it himself. "And why do you suppose the top is smaller than the bottom? Wouldn't you think it would be hard for Lady Oriole to get in and out?"

As if in answer to their question, Lady Baltimore Oriole herself flew up to her nest just then and she seemed to find no trouble at all in slipping into the opening at the top. And her beautiful little orange and black body looked very one, dainty and pretty against the brownness you may be sure. "I mean to ask her about it," whispered Mrs. Willy Wood-rat and she crept cautiously out on the branch.

New York, June 24.—Charles Hanson Towne is a combination poet and editor. He poets on the side and edits McClure's for a living. James Preston is an artist-actor-writer. Also he is the husband of May Wilson Preston, another artist. Preston tips the beam of any scale at about 120.

Now go on with the story. Charlie Towne and Jimmy Preston were walking in Washington Square when they ran into Lavinia Cobb, about whom you have no doubt heard. He is the famed literary gent from Paducah, Ky. The three celebrities shook hands all around.

"Jimmy" said Cobb squinting quizzically at Preston, "what's the matter with you? You look skinnier than ever. If you keep this up it will be impossible for you to make a shadow."

Preston drew himself up proudly. He always resents these remarks about his size.

"Why your great big lummock," he replied. "I'm heavier now than I ever was. Last summer I only weighed 115 pounds and now I weigh 120."

"One hundred and twenty?" mused Cobb. "Well, well. Why say I've got a friend down in Kentucky who has a guinea that weighs more than that."

Down in Gramercy Park, Ray Rohn and Herb Roth have a studio. It is sort of a loafing place for a crowd of people who live in the neighborhood. The other day Rohn had a young girl model from Brooklyn posing for him. If you have ever been in Brooklyn—and we hope this has been spared you—you may have noticed the peculiar jargon that is indigenous to the place.

Well, anyway, the model said she had just composed a poem. Rohn had been up the night before very late and didn't care much what happened so he just said: "Shoot!"

Here is the poem word for word as delivered by the model: Little Goity Moiphy. She soitenly is a boid. She lives on Thoiity-second street Right next to Thoiity-thoid. She reads the Evening Joinal And she reads the Evening Woild. I soitenly do love Goity When her doity hair coiled.

Willie Collier and his step-son Buster were having a midnight bite in the grill of the Majestic the other evening when a Persian potentate who is visiting in New York came in and sat down at a nearby table.

The Persian wore a collection of jewels that reminded one of a Tiffany window. Under the glare of the electric lights they were almost blinding. Said Buster: "Dad if I ever get enough money I'm going to decorate myself with some of those things."

"What for?" said the elder Collier.

"Oh, just to keep the boys at the diamond mines busy." All of which isn't bad when you consider Buster is still in short pants.

That every village has one, is a thing you can't dispute. He is a sort of genius—a mechanical genolot.

400 DROWN AS SHIP SINKS

Petrograd, June 24.—(Via London).—Four hundred persons lost their lives, according to latest reports, when the Russian passenger steamer Mercury was sunk in the Black Sea by a mine. The total number of persons aboard the ship was approximately 550. The disaster occurred about ten o'clock in the morning off the village of Grigorievka. The passengers felt a tremendous shock in the forward part of the vessel, which staggered ahead for ship's length and then went down bow foremost in five minutes. Survivors tell harrowing stories of the scenes that ensued. All available steamers and tugs hastened from Odessa and rescued the survivors clinging to life belts and wreckage. Five were taken from the masthead a few feet above the water. Many women still clasped babies in their arms. The passenger steamer Kniazpotomkin had just preceded the Mercury and although aware of the disaster the passengers forcibly prevented her captain from putting back to give aid.

AMERICAN CAVALRY COMMAND MAY HAVE BEEN ANNIHILATED

Carrizal Battle Takes On More Serious Aspect

Washington, June 24.—With reports at hand that nearly the entire American cavalry command of about one hundred soldiers may have been annihilated in the fight at Carrizal, Wednesday, grave fears were expressed in official circles today that not even diplomatic representations from Mexico City can prevent open hostilities between the United States and Mexico.

Up to late last night only seven survivors of the Carrizal battle had returned to their base in General Pershing's column and they brought no definite word of the others' fate. In preparation for early developments of a serious nature, technical barriers had been removed to allow national guard units from all over the country to be dispatched to the border as soon as each is ready.

Secretary Baker has issued orders urging extreme haste, and final action was assured by congress today to allow President Wilson to draft immediately for service either in or out of the United States all national guardsmen who subscribe to the new oath. The Hay resolution containing this authorization, adopted by the house yesterday, was before the senate today with virtual assurance that it would be approved.

President Wilson still awaited a final report from General Pershing on the Carrizal clash, and army officers said it might be another day or two before this arrived. General Pershing's official report probably will be based on the accounts either of officers of the troops which encountered the Mexicans or of the cavalry squadrons which have been sent out in search of the combatants. Admiral Winslow, commander of the Pacific fleet, also has been ordered to make a full report soon on the Mazatlan incident. Evidence now available from American sources seems to show that in both the Mazatlan and Carrizal clashes, Carranza authorities precipitated the fighting. At Carrizal it appears the assault was treacherous and without warning. When final reports arrive the Washington government is expected to use them as the basis for a direct refutation of claims of the Mexican government that Americans were the aggressors. Demand probably will be made that the acts be disavowed and the responsible Mexicans punished.

CONFERENCE WITH WILSON

(BULLETIN)
Washington, June 24.—Secretary Lansing and Secretary Baker went to the White House at ten o'clock this morning for a conference with the president. Both said as they left their offices that there had been no new reports from General Pershing and that the policy of the government was unchanged.

Secretary Baker said after the conference that no immediate change in the Mexican policy was contemplated by the United States and that no new military orders were planned.

How He Found It. "So you claim the world is round," sneered the skeptic. "How do you know that it is not square?" "Because I have had too many dealings with it," grimly replied Columbus. —Florida Times-Union.

STANLEY CALLS FOR VOLUNTEERS

Frankfort, Ky., June 24.—In order to stimulate recruiting, Governor A. O. Stanley yesterday issued an appeal to Kentuckians to volunteer for service in the state's brigade of National Guardsmen.

The governor declared "in the hour of stress and peril Kentuckians immemorably have been first to enter the breach" and he hopes to see "battalions of this commonwealth among the first in line of duty."

CINCINNATI HOLDS PREPAREDNESS PARADE

Cincinnati, O., June 24.—The citizens' preparedness parade held in this city today was a most patriotic demonstration.

Thousands cheered the marchers each of whom carried a small American flag. There was only a few bands in the parade and they were connected with fraternal orders, the Union bands having refused to participate. The action of the Musicians' Union caused several other labor unions to forbid their members to march.

Thousands of people go through TIMES WANT ADS every night. They read them with profit.

U. S. TROOPS WERE SURROUNDED ON THREESIDES, REPORT

San Antonio, Texas, June 24.—The two troops of the Tenth cavalry under Captain Charles T. Boyd practically were wiped out by the attack of Mexican forces under General Gomez at Carrizal June 21, according to indications given in a fragmentary report received by General Funston from General Pershing last night.

General Pershing's message stated that seven survivors in all have reached the main column. All were enlisted men, but the report did not say whether there were non-commissioned officers among them.

According to the stories of the survivors as outlined in General Pershing's report, a mounted force of Mexicans made a charge from the flank at the conclusion of a parley between Captain Boyd and General Gomez, at the same time that a machine gun opened fire from the front as General Gomez reached his lines.

Captain Boyd had ordered his men to dismount as the machine gun opened fire and the combined effect of the Mexican charge, the machine gun fire and rifle fire from the Mexican garrison of Carrizal which had almost surrounded the little American force under cover of the purley sought by General Gomez to discuss whether Captain Boyd should be allowed to pass through the town, stampeded the horses. No details were made known to General Pershing as to whether the Mexican charge was checked.

With their mounts gone, caught without means of escape, ringed about on three sides with the fire of an overwhelming force, the fate of the little detachment is believed by officers here to have been sealed. It is feared that only the most stupendous luck, backed by desperate valor, could have extricated Captain Boyd's men from the trap.

The reports from Mexican forces place the number of killed, including two officers, at from 12 to 40. It is reported 17 were taken captive into Chihuahua City.

The accepted percentage of wounded to those killed in modern warfare would place the wounded at from 53 to 40 at the lowest estimate. The strength of the two troops, G and K, is not known here, but it is estimated that they could not exceed 130 men, allowing for those sick and on detached service. With only seven survivors reported as arriving at the main column, the number of those accounted for, at least speculatively, is pitifully small.

The report from General Pershing stated that the stories of the survivors were confused and did not conform in all details with the report made by the first arrivals from the battle-field. General Pershing reported that there was a scene of wild confusion when the Mexicans opened fire and their cavalry charged. The struggles apparently were cut off in an effort of Captain Boyd to extricate his men from the jaws of the trap which was closing on his command, or fled before the outcome of the battle could be learned.

OHIO MILITIA IS READY TO BE MUSTERED INTO THE FEDERAL SERVICE

Columbus, O., June 24.—Ohio's National Guardsmen were ready today for mobilization and also ready to be mustered into the federal service. All organizations in every branch of the service, have reached the minimum peace strength required by the government and a few are at maximum war strength.

Adjutant General Benson W. Hough telegraphed the central department of the United States army at Chicago last night informing the officers that the Ohio guard is ready to be received into the federal service.

Complete arrangements for the mobilization camp here were discussed today by state officials and Brigadier General William V.

McMaken, of Toledo, who will be in command at the camp.

The first state troops will probably be ordered to the camp Monday, General Hough said today. Since President Wilson's call for the troops last Monday night all have been held in their armories awaiting orders to enter.

The telegram sent by General Hough was addressed to Colonel H. O. S. Heistand at Chicago, and read as follows:

"Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Eighth Regiments of Infantry recruited above minimum required. Squadron cavalry, battalion field artillery, battalion of engineers, battalion signal corps, three field hospital companies and two ambulance companies recruited nearly war strength. Work at Columbus camp site progressing. Ready for reception of troops Tuesday, June 27, if per cent progress in mobilization on that date. Recruiting will be continued with vigor today as it is desired to bring the different organizations up to maximum war strength as quickly as possible.

Champs Held To One Hit Are Blanked By The Senators

Coffindaffer Too Clever For Spencer Men Friday; Teams Battle Again Today

LIPPING from his lithe frame, one of the best games of his career, Pitcher Joseph Coffindaffer, he of the thin piping voice and speed ball, blanked the Champs at Millbrook Friday afternoon and held them to one lone hit, a single. Fisher got across the infield and which should have been fielded by either Curtis or Daubert. The score was 2 to 0. Coffindaffer issued transportation slips, but he was so stingy with his hits that not a single local player got around. The Senators had the honor of whitewashing the home team and securing an even split in the first two of a four game series. The game was featured by the pitching of Coffindaffer and the fielding of Bush and Daubert.

FIRST INNING
At the beginning Bauer tossed out Costello. Calhoun lined to McHenry. Powell singled to right. Calbert walked. Bush threw out Calbert at second on Daubert's grounder.

JUST GOSSIP
The same teams battle at 2:30 this afternoon. Test or Sims for Portsmouth and Henderson for the Senators.

Calbert again failed to hit safely although he was up only once.

Dills went hitless for the first time in many moons. He hit two vicious drives, but Daubert knocked them down.

The visitors displayed lots of ginger yesterday and it did them a world of good to win one.

It is not often that Dilly uncorks a wild peg, but he did sure enough yesterday. The ball sailed five feet over Demoe's head.

Test kept warming up and was ready to go to the hill in case that King walked. The latter was unusually wild yesterday.

It was Ladies Day and more than 150 of the fair sex turned out and roared valiantly for the Champs.

Calhoun hit a couple very hard yesterday, but didn't get them safe. He is one of the best first basemen in the league.

It was the first defeat after six straight wins.

JEFF PFEFFER, O.F.S.

Big Jeff Pfeffer of the Dodgers, is trying to duplicate the feat of Grover Cleveland Alexander. Last year Alex, the Great, pitched the Philadelphia club into a pennant. Pfeffer is actively engaged in an endeavor to accomplish the same thing for Brooklyn this year.

Big Jeff is leading the National League hurlers now. He is not beyond Alexander's name, Anderson and all the rest. He has won nine games and lost two.

Yesterday was the first time this season the Champs have experienced the sensation of being shut out. The team has played 45 games and lost scored a run or more in every contest up to yesterday so the Senators should feel chummy over their well-earned victory.

The Spiders will play at Fullerton Sunday. They will also go to Winchester, O., on the Fourth of July for two games. The team lines up as follows: Brown, 1f; Grice, cf; Smith, 3b; Hawk, rf; Allen, 2b; Barber, 1b; Dauby, ss; Brennan, c; F. Myers, p.

Four Blows In Two Games

The Champs are in the first hitting slump of the season. In the past two games they have only made four hits, which will not win many ball games. Some pitcher is going to get killed when they get back into their hitting stride.

It is quite probable that a new umpire will be seen in the league before July 1. Umpire Jacobs has recommended an arbiter to President Carr and he will probably be given a job, the services of Umpire Franklin being far from satisfactory.

In the Gun Turret. Manipulating a big gun in the turret of a battleship is just about as impersonal a form of fighting as exists. In trench warfare you can hear the shell coming in time to step out of its path (if you are lucky), but in turret fighting you are shut up tightly in a steel compartment, with no chance of escape. If any enemy projectile strikes the turret you are killed. If the ship sinks your steel trap drowns you. And if you finally defeat the enemy by working a brass lever back and forward for ten hours you wonder how many of your shots were hits and how many were mere waterpots. —Brooklyn Eagle.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS
Centrals 11, Reds 13, Grays 12.

The Junior league opened its third season Friday afternoon at York Park with a big crowd of fans out. The weather was ideal, and the players came on the diamond with the same old "pep" which has made them such a successful organization in the past two seasons.

OLD TIME SLUGGING FEST
The initial contest for 1916 in the Junior league was an old time slugfest. The game was staged between the Centrals and the Evangelicals, the former winning out by the score of 18 to 11. The two teams cracked out a total of 27 hits—all clean, healthy, avals, all scored by buntings.

REDS DEFEAT GRAYS
The Reds and Grays pulled off a real thriller in their opener on Friday the former winning out by the close score of 13 to 12. Both teams fought hard all the way through. Both hit the ball hard. Pitcher Smith securing four hits in four times up.

A Prince Edward Island Legend:
There is a delightful legend among the people of Point Prim to the effect that when the English attacked the French fort at that place a chain ball from one of the attacking vessels out the steeple from the old church located over the promontory and carried the bell which it contained into the sea. Dwellers along the point affirm that from time to time the sound of that bell comes over the waters at ebb tide and that its phantom tone is ever a warning of a fierce storm or some imminent danger to those who make their living by the spoils of the ocean.—Exchange.

GOING TO WAR

President Wilson does well in steadfastly refusing to precipitate this nation into war with Mexico.

War is ever to be deplored. The necessities of right and honor may and does often make it unavoidable, but that does not relieve it from its horrors and sufferings, which should never be precipitated except as an extremity.

Even where it becomes unavoidable no country is justified in entering into it without making such adequate preparation as will enable it to meet, in so far as its resources will permit, the exigencies of the situation. That, in the event of the breaking out of hostilities, the United States will overcome Mexico, goes with no more than the saying. But that the contest will not be the gay parade that our former encounter with her was, none at all versed in conditions will have the hardihood to claim. Quite the contrary, while military experts have no doubt of early and complete victory for American troops, their belief is that it will take at least half a million men to hold the country and maintain order until such time as terms of permanent peace may be agreed upon. So hereto is the much decried "watchful waiting" of President Wilson shown both discreet and wise. Bending every energy, exercising that calmness and justice which the strong should ever be surest in extending to the weak, to maintain honorable peace, he has patiently endured aggravation from Mexico and the fault-finding of enemies at home, losing nothing thereby in any sense, since the regular army is practically concentrated on the border and other military precaution so well forward, that should an actual clash come, our armies could at once begin the delivery of the smashing blows that is expected of them.

A GREAT IRON HIGHWAY

Commenting on the high record made in the stock market by the Norfolk & Western, the Wall Street Journal says:

"The activity and strength recently displayed by Norfolk & Western, resulting in an advance to the highest price at which the stock has ever sold, have been based not only on the increase of the dividend from six per cent to 7 per cent and the declaration of an extra one per cent at the last declaration, but, to expectation of further developments of the same kind within a reasonable time."

"Although Norfolk & Western is operating at the lowest ton mile of almost any railroad in the country, its efficiency is of such high order that it is earning at the rate of about eighteen per cent for its common stock. The excellent returns in net reflect the judicious heavy expenditures for improvements which have put the whole property in excellent physical condition, while economies in operation have also been secured through the electrification of the low grade division. The rate basis is so low that any reduction of it may be considered out of the question; and there is hardly anything that can happen to a road which can make large profits with rates as low as those received by Norfolk & Western. The road is what might be called a finished proposition, strong in cash, physically perfect, and ably managed."

FLOWERS

"Flowers," said Henry Ward Beecher once, "are the only things God ever created that he forgot to put a soul into." There is something in the delicate, innocent beauty of a flower that leaves the man or woman a little better for having looked upon it. Emerson had this in mind, no doubt, when he wrote his poem to "Rhodora," which concludes with the line that always occurs to us when we pass a bunch of wild roses, a bed of irises or a bank of violets:

"Beauty is its own excuse for being."

Ruminations such as these occurred to us today as we looked across our desk where some one had placed a vase full of peonies. Beautiful white blooms they were, just freshly plucked, with a faint hue of pink blushing through their petals, and seemingly redolent of all the sweet perfume of the garden from which they had just been taken.

Without flowers some of the brightest bits of consolation would be lacking from this life. Spring would not be and summer's charms would be darkened. Flowers alone in the desolation of a death scene seem to hold out one ray of hope. Some of the greatest passages of literature have been rhapsodies of flowers. Perhaps the most noted lines of Milton's Lyidas are those in which he speaks of the rattle primrose, the pale jessamine, the crusted crowfoot, the amaranthus, and the daffodils. The landscape painter's art without flowers would be vapid.

But greatest of all what an air of purity, sweetness and goodness, a vase full of flowers will lend to a room. We went back to work with a more wholesome faith in the goodness of things after these reflections on the blooms before us.—Akron Beacon-Journal.

Maybe June is trying to show how much she loves the fair maids that enter wedlock during her reign; for 'tis said: Happy is the bride that the sun shines on, but twice blessed is she that the rain falls on.

The Society of Automobile Engineers endeavors to cheer us by pointing out that the increased price of gasoline doesn't affect us much. It appears that the increased efficiency of engines enables us to go so much further on a gallon of juice that we should not kick about the price. In other words, when the cost of living is under consideration, we may consider ourselves progressing if we are only able to stand still.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Another way of showing your patriotism is by treating your fellow man in such manner that he will be glad he lives in your country.—Dayton Daily News.

The business of the St. Louis convention wasn't much more than a ratification, but it gave St. Louis all the better opportunity to show she was some convention city, and she surely availed herself handsomely of the opportunity.

Loathe scenery.

Don't talk about books you have not read.

Don't say "Well, well!" and "Yes, yes," and "Is that so?" every once in a while when your girl is talking to you. Wait until she gets through and then say: "What did you say?"

Don't tell about how many cold baths you take.

Strange what a little woman can stand. A Russian princess is named Leonide de Snyn Witgenstein Sayn and yet she has carried it through a full hundred years and never complained of the burden.

Bed Time Tales

The Oriole's Nest

Just as Lady Baltimore Oriole had told Willy Wood-rat that she had begun her nest from the tip of a branch and hung it downward to keep away prowlers, a great breeze came blowing along and swayed the branch so that Willy had to scramble back to the firmer branches for safety. Never before had he gone so near to the end of a limb and never would be again, for he had a narrow escape from falling.

But he thought he must learn more about that wise little bird. So as soon as the breeze was quiet again he determined to go back. And this time he had Mrs. Willy go with him. He knew she would enjoy the bird's story, should they be lucky enough to get the little lady to talk, as much as he would.

"It was right at the end of this branch," he said as they climbed up the tree. "Right out here. There! See that little bag hanging from the twig—see?"

Mrs. Willy looked where he pointed and sure enough! There was the oriole's nest! It looked like a small brown bag and it was laced so firmly to the twig that even the inexperienced wood-rats could tell that it hung very safely.

"Isn't it queer?" asked Willy, and you would have thought from the pride he displayed in showing off the nest that he had made it himself. "And why do you suppose the top is smaller than the bottom? Wouldn't you think it would be hard for Lady Oriole to get in and out?"

As if in answer to their question, Lady Baltimore Oriole herself flew up to her nest just then and she seemed to find no trouble at all in slipping into the opening at the top. And her beautiful little orange and black body looked very dainty and pretty against the brownness you may be sure.

"I mean ask her about it," whispered Mrs. Willy Wood-rat and she crept cautiously out on the branch.

"Will you please tell me," she began as soon as she had gone as far as she considered wise, "why you make your nest as you do?"

Lady Oriole looked towards her with a quick, piercing look but she her beautiful little orange and black body looked very dainty and pretty saw at once that Mrs. Willy meant no harm and that she was very friendly. "Of course I'll tell you," she answered, "though there is nothing wonderful about it. I make my nest just as you make yours."

In the way my people think best. We orioles have found that our eggs are safer when we are far from the tree trunks; and that they are safer still when we close our nests at the top. I weave my nest out of hair and tough grass and I must say that I think it a pretty one. But you must excuse me now, I have had only one caterpillar this whole day and I'm starving hungry."

And away she flew, leaving the wood-rats to admire her nest as much as they pleased.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY

O-O-MEINTYRE.

New York, June 24.—Charles Hanson Towne is a combination poet and editor. He pools on the side and edits McClure's for a living. James Preston is an artist-actor-writer. Also he is the husband of May Wilson Preston, another artist. Preston tips the beam of my scale at about 120.

Now go on with the story. Charlie Towne and Jimmy Preston were walking in Washington Square when they ran into Levin Cobb, about whom you have no doubt heard. He is the famed literary gent from Paducah, Ky. The three celebrities shook hands all around.

"Jimmy" said Cobb squinting quizzically at Preston, "what's the matter with you? You look skinnier than ever. If you keep this up it will be impossible for you to make a shadow."

Preston drew himself up proudly. He always resents these remarks about his size.

"Why you great big lumox," he replied, "I'm heavier now than I ever was. Last summer I only weighed 115 pounds and now I weigh 120."

"One hundred and twenty!" mused Cobb. "Well, well. Why say I've got a friend down in Kentucky who has a goitre that weighs more than that."

Down in Gramercy Park, Ray Rohn and Herb Roth have a studio. It is sort of a loafing place for a crowd of people who live in the neighborhood. The other day Rohn had a young girl model from Brooklyn posing for him. If you have ever been in Brooklyn—and we hope this has been spared you—you may have noticed the peculiar jargon that is indigenous to the place.

Well, anyway, the model said she had just composed a poem. Rohn had been up the night before very late and didn't care much what happened so he just said: "Shoot!"

Here is the poem word for word

Doc Koko's KOLUMN

The Car Nut

That every village has one, is a thing you can't dispute. He is a sort of genius—a mechanical galoot.

Back in the old bicycle days he rode a racing wheel—

He'd tell how many centuries he'd done, right off the reel!

And when he wasn't riding one, he had a pedal off—

He was as loony over "bikes" as some men over golf.

But now he's in the seventh heaven; there's gear grease on his mug, and he can tinker all he likes—the village auto-bug!

The keenest joy his soul can know is taking one apart; To grind the carbon from a valve plumb satisfies his heart.

To wear a set of jumpers and a greasy cap, why, say!

Upon a sea of glory he just simply floats away!

And when he has one out to test, its viscera all showing

Without the hood, he listening close to hear how it was going:

Mmmmmmmmm! There isn't any thing could ever, ever put Another drop of bliss into the being of that nut!

Folks pay him for the work, but shucks! it's such a waste of money.

He'd do the same thing for his board, because to him it's funny.

He'd use a monkey-wrench at meals, if anyone would let him;

He'd tie his tie with a stilet—sure! That stunt would never fret him.

He hooks up wifery with the pliers, with skilful twist and tug;

He cuts, drinks, dreams, machinery—this village auto-bug.

A Fishy Excuse

Mother—"Where have you been, Willie?"

Willie—"Sunday School!"

Mother—"But you're all wet and you smell of fish."

Willie—"Yessum. Teacher told us the story of Jonah and the whale."

Needless Torture

General Sherman once stopped at a country home where a tin basin and roller towel sufficed for the family's ablutions. For two mornings the small boy of the household watched in silence the visitor's toilet. When on the third day the toothbrush, nail file, whisk broom, etc., had been duly used, he asked: "Say, Mister, air you always that much trouble to you we?"—Christian Register.

Stoking

"Mr. Redink," said the boss severely, "you got off yesterday afternoon under the plea of being sick. I saw you afterward going to the races, and you didn't appear to be at all sick."

Mr. Redink was fully equal to the occasion. "You ought to have seen me after the second race, sir," he said.—New York Sun.

Be That As It May

To you, whoever you are, Be you ever and ever so near Or never and never so far, The thing that I'm longing to say (For ever and ever and aye) Is whatever you're eager to hear!

—Cleveland Leader.

So, There!

Hubby (during the spat)—"I don't believe in parading my virtues."

Wife—"I don't see how you could. It takes quite a number to make a parade."

Speaking of Calamities

"This bell," said the well-meaning sexton, when showing the belfry of the village church to a party of visitors, "is only rung in case of a visit from the Lord Bishop, a fire, a flood, or some other such calamity."

Gander

Mrs. Hiram Offen—Supposing, Bridget, I should deduct from your wages the cost of all the dishes you broke.

Bridget—Shure, mum, in that case it's meself 'd be like the dishes.

Not Quite the Same

He was an ardent lover, and a practical penniless lover. It was St. Patrick's Day; in his hand he bore a pot of real Irish shamrock.

"They were raised in the old sod," he said as he presented the pot to Biddy—"raised in the old sod of Ireland."

"Sure, now, Murphy," cried his lady, in delight, "how really swate of ye it is! How perfect and how fresh!"

Sure, I do believe that there's a little dew on them yet!" Murphy flushed slightly. "Begorra, I know there is," he reluctantly confessed, "but it'll be paid to-morrow."—Ex.
